Chapter 23: The United States and the Cold War 1945-1953

US history since 1876, week 6

Spring 2023

Name of the book: Give Me Liberty!: An American History - Eric Foner

1. McCarthyism

- In the United States there was widespread fear in the 1950s over communism and this fear we refer to as the Red Scare
- The Justice Department was responding but the question was how to balance legitimate fears about safety while at the same time protecting civil liberties
- In 1949, leaders of the American Communist Party were prosecuted and the argument was that just by holding leadership positions in the Communist Party, they were guilty of helping an international conspiracy against the United States - the Marxist - ideology of the Communist Party was in itself considered subversive and so party leaders were convicted in the lower courts of having committed a crime of sedition against the United States
- America was being Cropp prosecuted not for having committed a crime but for belonging to a specific political party

McCarthy, Hollywood blacklisting

- Wisconsin Senator Joseph McCarthy: Produced a series of investigations and hearings in the 1950s
- Purpose: To expose supposed communist infiltration
- 1950: Claimed that 205 communists had infiltrated the State Department
- Searched for communists in the CIA
- Failed to make a plausible case against anyone Accusations cost many people their jobs and social alienation
- "McCarthy hearings:" 36 days of televised investigations led by McCarthy in 1954
