"The Waters Return" Laura Schrock, 2008 The following chapter will engage Waterland in isolation from Swift's other novels and collection of short stories not because these texts do not mutually illuminate one another but because Waterland deserves a treatment of the kind of depth that warrants an extended concentrated study That chapter seeks specifically to counter several of the blatant misreadings of the narrator's posture and intent within the novel and to adequately evaluate that posture and intent as they emerge within the full context of the wealth of literary devices Swift employs including irony mythical imagery and scriptural allusion The mythical images and allusions that are touched upon by other critics comprise here the central study close reading biblical hermeneutics and specific strains of French feminism will interact to allow for a reengagement of Waterland beyond the exhausted circular terms of deconstructive relativism An Analysis of Graham Swift's Waterland Kovács Zsuzsanna,1996 Magical Realism Lois Parkinson Zamora,Wendy B. Faris,1995 On magical realism in literature Allegories of Telling Lynn Wells,2021-11-22 Allegories of Telling Self Referential Narrative in Contemporary British Fiction has as its founding premise Ross Chambers s notion that one of the important powers of fiction is its power to theorize the act of storytelling in and through the act of storytelling In this critical study Lynn Wells presents detailed readings of novels by five prominent British authors John Fowles Angela Carter Graham Swift A S Byatt and Salman Rushdie with an emphasis on how the texts self referential aspects illuminate the acts of reading and writing fiction in contemporary Britain and by extension around the world The book begins by situating contemporary British fiction historically as the product of an aesthetics of compromise arising from the realism versus experimentalism debate that consumed the English literary establishment during the 1960s In her discussion of the texts Lynn Wells then draws on a wide range of theoretical approaches from narrative and psychoanalytic theory to existentialist philosophy and the historiographic ideas of thinkers such as Walter Benjamin Michel Foucault and Giambattista Vico These original readings challenge superficial postmodern interpretations of contemporary British fiction as pessimistically anti historical and reassert the value of readerly engagement and narrative reconstruction of the past The Green Studies Reader Laurence Coupe,2000 Laurence Coupe brings together a collection of extracts from a wide range of both historical and contemporary ecocritical texts History and Storytelling in Graham Swift's Waterland Andrew Colcord Curtis,1992 Cat's cradle Regula Staub,1992 Study Guide Supersummary,2019-10-20 SuperSummary a modern alternative to SparkNotes and CliffsNotes offers high quality study guides for challenging works of literature This 67 page guide for Waterland by Graham Swift includes detailed chapter summaries and analysis covering 52 chapters as well as several more in depth sections of expert written literary analysis Featured content includes commentary on major characters 25 important quotes essay topics and key themes like The Effects of Time and The Value of Storytelling Waterland Graham Swift,2015-01-01 With an introduction by John BurnsideShortlisted for the 1983 Booker prize winner of the Guardian Fiction Prize Children only animals live entirely in the Here and Now Only nature knows neither memory nor history But man let me offer you a definition is the story telling animal Tom Crick is a passionate teacher but before he is forced into retirement by scandal he has one last history lesson to deliver his own Spanning more than 200 years in the lives of its haunted narrator and his ancestors Waterland is a visionary tale of England s mysterious Fen country Taking in eels and incest ale making and madness the discovery of a body and a tragic family romance this is an extraordinary novel about the heartless sweep of history and man's changing place within it. In the years since its first publication in 1983, Graham Swift's Waterland has established itself as a much-loved classic of twentieth-century British literature. It was shortlisted for the Booker prize, won the Guardian Fiction Prize, and has been adapted into a film starring Jeremy Irons and Ethan Hawke. Paying the Symbolic Price Ryan Siemers, 2010 The "Mystery of History", its Functionalisation and Disintegration in Graham Swift's "Waterland" Thorben Höppner, 2023-05-02 Seminar paper from the year 2021 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.0 language English abstract This paper investigates how the ambivalent perhaps even ambiguous definition of historia relates to the representation of history in the novel and how this representation again relates to its functionalisation by Tom Crick. To answer this question, this paper will primarily work with Linda Hutcheon's notion of historiographic metafiction while also pointing out similarities to the reading of Waterland as a trauma narrative. In taking a closer look at the protagonist narrator himself, this paper argues that the protection from chaos and disorder which Landow addresses is only achieved through a form of historical escapism. Superficially speaking, Graham Swift's Waterland is a novel about a history teacher who, having lost his job, forsakes the formal teaching of history and embarks on an extracurricular journey into his own past. However, upon closer examination, Waterland is more than that: a novel about history itself. It explores the whole mystery of history as Swift himself puts it in the introduction to the novel: Waterland xv. Thus, it is only logical that the novel prefaces its narrative with an insightful epigraph: a dictionary definition of the Latin word historia from which the English word history originates. As can be seen above, however, said definition is ambivalent; it is inherently polysemantic, as Judith Ryan notes. James Acheson has likewise pointed out that the fact that historia can mean either history or fiction is significant for the historian and the writer of fiction must deal with similar problems in writing about the past. The natural tendency of language towards proliferation of its meaning, aside from the epigraph, leaves us with a very ambivalent concept of history which the narrative of Waterland in its dealing with history then builds on. Since such a prominent theme in Waterland, the novel's representation of history has been thoroughly examined in secondary literature, particularly against the theoretical background of what Linda Hutcheon has identified as historiographic metafiction.
