The Infrastructured State Colin Turner, 2020-02-28 At the core of the logic of this book is that states engage in infrastructuring as a means of securing and enhancing their territoriality By positioning infrastructure as a system there is a presumption that all infrastructures exhibit some degree of mutual dependence As such a National Infrastructure System NIS is not simply about conventional conceptions of infrastructure based on those that support economic activity i.e. energy transport and information but also about broader hard and soft structures that both enable and are supported by the aforementioned economic infrastructures Consequently this book offers an ambitious holistic view on the form of NIS arguing that the infrastructural mandate requires a conception of the state that encapsulates themes from both the competition and the welfare states in infrastructure provision Sweden: From Neutrality to International Solidarity Ryszard M. Czarny, 2018-04-27 This book presents the legal and political factors determining international relations including the processes of integration in all their complexity The overall structure of the book together with the composition of its separate chapters allows for some general assumptions identifying the main tendencies and placing them in a contemporary social context as well as establishing their relations with the practices of today The content is a compendium of basic information and data related to the international processes which occur within specific formal legal and political frames The book is divided into five parts featuring not only deep historical context but most of all presenting current information and analyses of the last few years Presented against the background and within the context of the Kingdom of Sweden's political system and its international environment the book brings into the foreground issues of particular importance for Sweden's continuing European integration process and describes its response to the developments in the international situation
