Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge 2015 University of Cambridge, 2015-10-08 The official Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge Teaching History in a Neoliberal Age Mary Woolley, 2019-09-04 This book explores changing practice in history classrooms from the autonomy of the 1980s through the introduction of GCSEs and the National Curriculum to the prescription of the National Strategies and the pervasive influence of league tables in the first decade of the twenty first century It uses individual narratives from history teachers to shed light on a changing profession Showcasing research that is crucial reading for leaders in education it uses oral accounts from 13 experienced teachers to provide a rich testimony of the constraints and affordances acting on history teachers. The book offers a unique perspective to show how teachers experienced steady but substantial changes in policy and autonomy and how this affected their practice this detail enhances an analysis of policy and curricular documents across three decades The findings are crucial for educational settings today facing crises of teacher recruitment and teacher retention This book will be of great interest to academics and higher degree research students in history education history of education and education policy It will also be of interest to beginning history teachers and senior school leaders responsible for teacher development and curriculum A Research Agenda for Tourism Geographies Dieter K. Müller, 2019 In recent years tourism geographies have developed into a vibrant field of research at the intersection of geography and tourism studies. The book presents a unique collection of individual research agendas aiming to inspire the pursuit of new avenues of research Although there have been arguments to apply post disciplinary perspectives within tourism research this book highlights the interest and potential of tourism geographers to contribute to a geographical tradition and influence the future content of geography as a discipline Advancing Long-Term Care Policy and Research in China Zhanlian Feng, Bei Wu, 2025-08-06 Population aging and rapid socioeconomic changes are weakening family based elder care while escalating the needs for long term care services for older adults in China This book presents insightful analysis and research findings on a wide range of policy relevant issues related to long term care for older adults in China China's population is aging at an unprecedented pace Currently older Chinese adults aged 65 and over account for approximately 15% or 208 million of the total population a figure projected to exceed 30% or 390 million by 2050 Rapid demographic and socioeconomic changes in China are weakening traditional family based elder care while increasing the demand for long term care services This book features a collection of studies that provides timely analyses and fresh insights into a wide range of policy relevant topics related to long term care for older adults in China These topics are explored in the volume s nine chapters organized under four main themes migration caregiving and elder care challenges long term care service users frontline workers and workforce challenges unmet needs across the care continuum in healthcare long term care and end of life care and long term care financing Grounded in a thoughtful analysis of the best available empirical data and employing rigorous and cutting edge research methods the findings from these studies contribute to building scientific evidence where it is lacking and support evidence informed long term care policymaking and practice to address the mounting challenges of population aging in China This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Aging Social Policy Climate Change and the Role of Education Walter Leal Filho, Sarah L. Hemstock, 2019-11-28 This book offers insights into the educational dimensions of climate change and promotes measures to improve education in this context It is widely believed that education can play a key role in finding global solutions to many problems related to climate change Indeed education as a process not only helps young people to better understand and address the impact of global warming but also fosters better attitudes and behaviours to aid efforts towards mitigating climate change and adapting to a changing environment But despite the central importance of education in relation to climate change there is a paucity of publications on this theme Against this background the book focuses on the educational aspects of climate change and showcases examples of research projects and other initiatives aimed at educating various audiences. It also provides a platform for reflections on the role education can play in fostering awareness on a changing climate Presenting a wide range of valuable lessons learned which can be adapted and replicated elsewhere the book appeals to educators and practitioners alike Germany Olaf Kühne, Florian Weber, 2022-03-02 This book addresses the highly differentiated spatial social cultural and demographic structure s of Germany with a particular focus on the reciprocal relations between different levels of spatial development The historical development of Germany serves as a background in order to provide context for the development of spatially relevant ideas and ideals whether in relation to politics landscape or culture In this regard questions of divergence and convergence become highly salient The book makes the complexity of spatial and social developments in Germany comprehensible The neopragmatic approach adopted here allows bringing together different theoretical strands while providing a basis for independent regional geographic research at the same time Beginning with an overview of the physical structures of Germany which provides the material point of departure for the societal development of Germany key aspects of the German history are discussed Particular attention is paid to the reciprocal influence between material substrate and notions of landscape Here specific German trajectories of aesthetic and normative conceptions of landscape become clear A common theme throughout the book are questions of divergence and of efforts towards convergence which become evident when considering past and present economic political and demographic developments Efforts to tackle current challenges such as adapting to climate change and mitigating it or securing raw materials also become apparent The complexity of spatial processes in Germany is illustrated in case study regions dealing with the challenges of structural change in traditional industrial regions such as the Ruhr area or e g efforts of Berlin to position and find itself as the capital of a unified Germany Overall the book shows how theory driven regional geographic research can make spatiotemporal complexities tangible and comprehensible Classroom-based Interventions Across Subject Areas Gabriel Stylianides, Ann Childs, 2018-11-01 Classroom based Interventions Across Subject Areas explores cutting edge educational research that has real potential to support the improvement of classroom practice Written by expert researchers and practitioners it provides empirically tested and theory based approaches that practitioners can use to improve learning in classroom settings This edited volume provides examples of classroom based interventions in English mathematics science languages history and geography Taking as its basis research which has been conducted in actual classrooms with close collaboration between researchers and practitioners this text will help researchers and practitioners understand how and why interventions can be successful or not The text further considers the broad theoretical and practical issues that derive from intervention studies including the nature of collaboration between researchers and teachers and ways of adapting effective classroom based interventions for use in different contexts Offering insight into the methodology behind successful classroom based interventions this text will be essential reading for students of education trainee teachers and all those concerned with how educational research can impact on teaching and learning Rural Poverty Today Mark Shucksmith, Jayne Glass, Jane Atterton, Polly Chapman, 2023-02-22 This book combines person based and place based approaches to tackling rural poverty

Social Justice and the City Nik Heynen, 2020-06-09 This special collection aims to offer insight into the state of geography on questions of social justice and urban life While using social justice and the city as our starting point may signal inspiration from Harvey s 1973 book of the same name the task of examining the emergence of this concept has revealed the deep influence of grassroots urban uprisings of the late 1960s earlier and contemporary meditations on our urban worlds Jacobs 1961 1969 Lefebvre 1974 Massey and Catalano 1978 as well as its enduring significance built upon by many others for years to come Laws 1994 noted how geographers came to locate social justice struggles in the city through research that examined the ways in which material conditions contributed to poverty and racial and gender inequity as well as how emergent social movements organized to reshape urban spaces across diverse engagements including the U S Civil Rights Movement anti war protests feminist and LGBTQ activism the American Indian Movement and disability access This book originally published as a special issue of Annals of the American Association of Geographers Poetic Environmental Activism and Education Amanda Fulford, Victoria Jamieson, 2025-03-25 This book brings together the works of the nineteenth and twentieth century writers Henry David Thoreau and Anna Shepherd Finding in their work a common approach of poetic forms of writing that enact kinds of environmental activism the book repositions them in the context of current environmental crises by offering an original resource for supporting poetic environmental activism in educational contexts Bringing together scholarship from North America and Europe the book draws on Thoreau and Shepherd's literary and philosophical sources to support a conceptual understanding of education s role in how we think about understand and tackle the climate crisis Chapters trace the idea of poetic environmental activism in Thoreau and Shepherd applying literary and environmental thought to educational practice and contexts The book is timely in taking a scholarly approach that explores educational engagements with climate change and focuses on education for environmental sustainability Advocating for engagement with the climate emergency through the lens of poetic environmental activism this volume will appeal to postgraduate students researchers and scholars involved with sustainability education philosophy of education poetic inquiry and literary theory for environmental action World Cities and Nation States Greg Clark, Tim Moonen, 2016-11-10 World Cities and Nation States takes a global perspective to show how national governments and states provinces regions continue to play a decisive and often positive partnership role with world cities The 16 chapter book comprised of two introductory chapters 12 central chapters that draw on case studies and two summary chapters draws on over 40 interviews with national ministers city government officials business leaders and expert academics Natural Resources and Environmental Justice Anna Lukasiewicz, Stephen Dovers, Sonia Graham, Libby Robin, Jennifer McKay, Steven Schilizzi, 2017-03 Environmental management involves making decisions about the governance of natural resources such as water minerals or land which are inherently decisions about what is just or fair Yet there is little emphasis on justice in environmental management research or practical guidance on how to achieve fairness and equity in environmental governance and public policy This results in social dilemmas that are significant issues for government business and community agendas causing conflict between different community interests Natural Resources and Environmental Justice provides the first comprehensive interdisciplinary examination of justice research in Australian environmental management identifying best practice and current knowledge gaps With chapters written by experts in environmental and social sciences law and economics this book covers topical issues including coal seam gas desalination plants community relations in mining forestry negotiations sea level rise and animal rights It also proposes a social justice framework and an agenda for future justice research in environmental management These important environmental issues are covered from an Australian perspective and the book will be of broad use to policy makers researchers and managers in natural resource management and governance environmental law social impact and related fields both in Australia and abroad Job Creation and Local

Economic Development 2018 Preparing for the Future of Work OECD, 2018-09-18 This third edition of Job Creation and Local Economic Development examines the impact of technological progress on regional and local labour markets It sheds light on widening regional gaps on job creation workers education and skills as well as inclusion in local economies city Camilla Lewis, Jessica Symons, 2017-12-29 This book offers an inside view of Manchester England demonstrating the complexity of urban dynamics from a range of ethnographic vantage points including the city's football clubs the airport housing estates the Gay Village and the city's annual civic parade These perspectives help trace the multiple dynamics of a vibrant and rapidly changing post industrial city showing how people's decisions and actions co produce the city and give it shape Using the metaphor of the kaleidoscope with each turn of the wheel another aspect of the city is materialised In doing so the contributors complicate the dominant narrative of Manchester's renaissance as driven by the city administration's entrepreneurial ethos By taking up civic space and resources with council led cultural representations focused largely on generating financial income for the city three decades of command and control politics has inhibited grassroots and spontaneous forms of emergent publics The Eye of War Antoine Bousquet, 2018-10-09 How perceptual technologies have shaped the history of war from the Renaissance to the present From ubiquitous surveillance to drone strikes that put warheads onto foreheads we live in a world of globalized individualized targeting. The perils are great In The Eye of War Antoine Bousquet provides both a sweeping historical overview of military perception technologies and a disquieting lens on a world that is increasingly one in which anything or anyone that can be perceived can be destroyed in which to see is to destroy Arguing that modern day global targeting is dissolving the conventionally bounded spaces of armed conflict Bousquet shows that over several centuries a logistical order of militarized perception has come into ascendancy bringing perception and annihilation into ever closer alignment The efforts deployed to evade this deadly visibility have correspondingly intensified yielding practices of radical concealment that presage a wholesale disappearance of the customary space of the battlefield Beginning with the Renaissance's fateful discovery of linear perspective The Eye of War discloses the entanglement of the sciences and techniques of perception representation and localization in the modern era amid the perpetual quest for military superiority In a survey that ranges from the telescope aerial photograph and gridded map to radar digital imaging and the geographic information system Bousquet shows how successive technological systems have profoundly shaped the history of warfare and the experience of soldiering A work of grand historical sweep and remarkable analytical power The Eye of War explores the implications of militarized perception for the character of war in the twenty first century and the place of human subjects within its increasingly technical armature Social Network Analysis of Disaster Response, Recovery, and Adaptation Eric C Jones, A.J. Faas, 2016-09-09 Social Network Analysis of Disaster Response Recovery and Adaptation covers systematic social network analysis and how people and institutions function in disasters after disasters and the ways they adapt to hazard settings As hazards become disasters the opportunities and constraints for maintaining a safe and secure life and livelihood become too strained for many people Anecdotally and through many case studies we know that social interactions exacerbate or mitigate those strains necessitating a concerted intellectual effort to understand the variation in how ties within and outside communities respond and are affected by hazards and disasters Examines the role of societal relationships in a disaster context incorporating theory and case studies by experts in the field Integrates research in the areas of social network analysis and inter organizational networks Presents a range of studies from around the world employing different approaches to network analysis in disaster contexts Introduction to Population Geographies Holly R. Barcus, Keith Halfacree, 2017-09-01 An Introduction to Population Geographies provides a foundation to the incredibly diverse topical and interesting field of twenty first century population geography It establishes the substantive concerns of the subdiscipline acknowledges the sheer diversity of its approaches key concepts and theories and engages with the resulting major areas of academic debate that stem from this richness Written in an accessible style and assuming little prior knowledge of topics covered yet drawing on a wide range of diverse academic literature the book's particular originality comes from its extended definition of population geography that locates it firmly within the multiple geographies of the life course Consequently issues such as childhood and adulthood family dynamics ageing everyday mobilities morbidity and differential ability assume a prominent place alongside the classic population geography triumvirate of births migrations and deaths This broader framing of the field allows the book to address more holistically aspects of lives across space often provided little attention in current textbooks Particular note is given to how these lives are shaped though hybrid social biological and individual arenas of differential life course experience By engaging with traditional quantitative perspectives and newer qualitative insights the authors engage students from the quantitative macro scale of population to the micro individual scale Aimed at higher level undergraduate and graduate students this introductory text provides a well developed pedagogy including case studies that illustrate theory concepts and issues
