Slaves, Tome 1 Amheliie,2014-04 Le monde a change les humains sont devenus des esclaves La Terre est dirigeée par une Race supérieure les vampires Faith est une humaine elle a connu le changement de ce monde et a grandi dans cette époque sombre Arrivée à l'âge adulte après des années de fuite elle est attrapée et vendue comme esclave à un vampire très riche dont les intentions restent mystérieuses Très vite Faith prend conscience du milieu dans lequel elle va désormais vivre Si elle pensait que les vampires étaient des êtres malveillants côtoyer ceux qui appartiennent au monde de la politique ne fait que confirmer son impression En effet si l'humaine préfère mettre tous ces suceurs dans le même sac un certain vampire pourrait peut-être la faire changer d'avis Faith est bien loin d'imaginer l'onde de choc que va déclencher son apparition les secrets que cachent ces hommes dotés de crocs leur ambition ainsi que les sentiments qui vont naître N'oublions pas que les apparences sont trompeuses Dictionary Catalog of the Slavonic Collection New York Public Library. Colonos, 2023-07-31 This book discusses how human lives are equated with the material and argues that pricing lives lies at the core of the political in fact as in Plato or Hobbes and in the Weberian ethics of responsibility measurement is considered to be one of its central features Ariel Colonos argues that this measure relies primarily on human lives and interests and that the material equivalence to lives is twofold The equivalence is a double equation as we pay for lives and we pay with lives This double equation constitutes the measurement upon which the political equilibrium of a society depends and is thus a key constitutive part of the political The book adopts two approaches both with an interdisciplinary perspective one explanatory and the other normative First it explains the nexus between existential goods and material goods drawing on a detailed analysis of several case studies from contemporary politics both domestic and international Second it discusses normatively the material valuation of human lives and the human value of material goods Value attribution and the question of the material equivalent to lives are of relevance not only for political theory and philosophy but also for sociology history international relations and legal studies The Nature of the Right Gill Seidel, 1988-01-01 This volume challenges and extends the definition of right and right wing discourse as traditionally conceived in male scholarship The eleven papers share a common perspective a critique of the ideology of natural difference as the basis for oppression of the dominated group In a radical feminist analysis the relation of domination between the sexes is seen as central to the projects of the right in which the constructions of nations races and gender present variations in time and space In its linking of oppressions this book makes an important and timely contribution to feminist theory and puts the case for a radical and altogether coherent rethinking of right wing political space A new dictionary of the French and English languages compiled from the creation of sign language and fingerspelling systems deaf people's command of rhetoric and poetics their mobilization of literary tools and broad exercise of citizenship These distinctive developments in the history of deaf people's empowerment challenge and broaden current conceptions of identity politics Such an historical approach is crucial in order to understand the emergence of a deaf community and to rethink the different and often contradictory readings of deafness in medical or cultural terms that we are faced with to this day

An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andr   Breton's notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton's window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton's window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren   Magritte Max Ernst Andr   Breton and Joan Mir   he concluding chapter consi

Brain and Race Claudio Pogliano, 2020-06-02 Since the second half of the eighteenth century generations of scientists persisted in studying the relationships between the volume weight or shape of the human brain and the degree of intelligence In Pogliano's book the thread of time drives the narrative up to the mid twentieth century It investigates the duration and changes of a game that was intrinsically political although having to do with bones and nervous matter Races made its main object during a long period when Western culture believed the human species to be naturally partitioned into a number of discrete types with their innate and hereditary traits Never leading to irrefutable achievements the polycentric as well as visual enterprise herein described is full of growing tensions doubts and disillusionment

A Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life and Writings Helen E. Cullen, 2017 A Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life Writings situates Weil's thought in the time between the two world wars through which she lived and traces Weil's consistent conception of a mind body dualism in the Cartesian sense to a dualism that places the mind within a carnal part of the soul and establishes an eternal part of the soul as the essence of human beings Helen Cullen argues that in Weil's early conception of human nature her Cartesian conception of perception already shows a glimpse of the eternal Weil's dualistic conception also forms the basis of her political analysis of the left of her time and through working in factories and in the fields she develops a conception of labour as a theory of action and work with a method Weil was influenced by leading thinkers of her time prompting her to do an analysis of current scientific theories Cullen argues that Weil's analysis of Christianity already present in Greek philosophy shows us a theory of identical thought inherited from the East India and China and brought forth by peoples around Israel This theory leads to Weil's analysis developed in The Need for Roots of how we've been uprooted
