Richard K. Peach, Lewis P. Shapiro, 2011-12-10 This new graduate level textbook Cognition and Acquired Language Disorders
An Information Processing Approach addresses the cognitive aspects of language and communication It assembles the most recent information on this topic addressing normal cognitive processing for language in adults the cognitive impairments underlying language disorders arising from a variety of neurologic conditions and current assessment and treatment strategies for the management of these disorders The text is organized using an information processing approach to acquired language disorders and thus can be set apart from texts that rely upon a more traditional syndrome based approach e g stroke dementia and traumatic brain injury This approach facilitates the description and treatment of acquired language disorders across many neurologic groups when particular cognitive deficits are identified Other useful features of the text include assessment and treatment protocols that are based on current evidence These protocols provide students and clinicians a ready clinical resource for managing language disorders due to deficits in attention memory linguistic operations and executive functions Unique process oriented approach organizes content by cognitive processes instead of by syndromes so you can apply the information and treatment approaches to any one of many neurologic groups with the same cognitive deficit Cognitive domains are described as they relate to communication rather than separated as they are in many other publications where they are treated as independent behaviors A separate section on normal processing includes five chapters providing a strong foundation for understanding the factors that contribute to disordered communication and its management The evidence based approach promotes best practices for the most effective management of patients with cognitive communication disorders Coverage of the cognitive aspects of communication helps you meet the standards for certification in speech language pathology A strong author team includes two lead authors who are well known and highly respected in the academic community along with expert contributors ensuring a comprehensive advanced clinical text

Unveiling the Secrets of Gaokao Essays to Stand Out in IB Chinese Exams 如何写好IB中文作文 DAVID YAO, Gaokao essays are an important component of the National College Entrance Examination Gaokao for Chinese high school students They serve as a comprehensive assessment of students language proficiency thinking abilities and overall literacy

Gaokao essays and the IB Chinese exam can learn from and reference each other in certain aspects but they also have some differences. Despite the differences both Gaokao essays and the IB Chinese exam emphasize the development of candidates' writing and thinking abilities. By preparing for and referencing Gaokao essays, candidates can cultivate good writing habits, logical thinking, and expression skills, which are also helpful for tackling writing tasks in the IB Chinese exam. Furthermore, candidates can enhance their writing abilities and test-taking skills by familiarizing themselves with the writing requirements and evaluation criteria of the IB Chinese exam. It is important to note that during the preparation process, candidates should engage in targeted practice and preparation based on the requirements of the IB Chinese exam. Understanding the specific format and evaluation criteria of the exam and making corresponding learning and improvements are essential. THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, 1882

Treatment of Epilepsy Humberto Foyaca Sibat, 2011-09-22 Epilepsy continues to be a major health problem throughout the planet, affecting millions of people, mainly in developing countries where parasitic zoonoses are more common and cysticercosis as a leading cause is endemic. There is epidemiological evidence for an increasing prevalence of epilepsy throughout the world and evidence of increasing morbidity and mortality in many countries as a consequence of higher incidence of infectious diseases, head injury, and stroke. We decided to edit this book because we identified another way to approach this problem, covering aspects of the treatment of epilepsy based on the most recent technological results in vitro from developed countries and the basic treatment of epilepsy at the primary care level in rural areas of South Africa. Therefore, apart from the classic issues that cannot be missing in any book about epilepsy, we introduced novel aspects related with epilepsy and neurocysticercosis as a leading cause of epilepsy in developing countries. Many experts from the field of epilepsy worked hard on this publication to provide valuable, updated information about the treatment of epilepsy and other related problems.
