

Laboratory Activity #1 — Student Laboratory Packet

Relationships and BiodiversityA Laboratory Activity for the Living EnvironmentIntroduction

Botana curus is a valuable plant because it produces Curol, a compound used for treating certain kinds of cancer. Curol cannot be produced in the laboratory. Botana curus grows very slowly and is on the endangered species list, so its ability to provide Curol in large quantities is limited.

Species that are more closely related to Botana curus are more likely to produce the important substance Curol. Three similar plant species that are plentiful (X, Y, and Z) may be related to Botana curus. You will work as a researcher to:

- gather structural and molecular evidence to determine which plant species is most closely related to the hypothetical species, Botana curus
- use this evidence to decide which plant species is most likely to serve as a source of the important substance Curol

Safety

- You will need to wear goggles while conducting Tests 4 and 5.
- Do not eat or drink anything in the laboratory while doing this laboratory activity.

Important Note: Record all of your data and answers on these laboratory sheets. You will need to keep them for review before the Regents Examination. Later, you will need to transfer your answers to a separate Student Answer Packet. Your teacher will use the packet in grading your work, and the school will retain it as evidence of your completion of the laboratory requirement for the Living Environment Regents Examination.

Structural Evidence for Relationships

Perform the following tests and record your observations in Table 1 on page 8 of this packet. Use a hand lens or microscope as needed.

Test 1—Structural Characteristics of Plants

- Do not remove the plant samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the plant samples. Record your observations in Table 1 (see page 8).

Test 2—Structural Characteristics of Seeds

- Do not remove the seed samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the seed samples. Record your observations in Table 1.

Lactic Acid Bacteria Wilhelm H. Holzapfel, Brian J. B. Wood, 2014-04-29 Lactic Acid Bacteria Biodiversity and Taxonomy Lactic Acid Bacteria Biodiversity and Taxonomy Edited by Wilhelm H Holzapfel and Brian J B Wood The lactic acid bacteria LAB are a group of related microorganisms that are enormously important in the food and beverage industries Generally regarded as safe for human consumption and in the case of probiotics positively beneficial to human health the LAB have been used for centuries and continue to be used worldwide on an industrial scale in food fermentation processes including yoghurt cheeses fermented meats and vegetables where they ferment carbohydrates in the foods producing lactic acid and creating an environment unsuitable for the survival of food spoilage organisms and pathogens The shelf life of the product is thereby extended but of course these foods are also enjoyed around the world for their organoleptic qualities They are also important to the brewing and winemaking industries where they are often undesirable intruders but can in specific cases have desirable benefits The LAB are also used in producing silage and other agricultural animal feeds Clinically they can improve the digestive health of young animals and also have human medical applications This book provides a much needed and comprehensive account of the current knowledge of the LAB covering the taxonomy and relevant biochemistry physiology and molecular biology of these scientifically and commercially important microorganisms It is directed to bringing together the current understanding concerning the organisms remarkable diversity within a seemingly rather constrained compass The genera now identified as proper members of the LAB are treated in dedicated chapters and the species properly recognized as members of each genus are listed with detailed descriptions of their principal characteristics Each genus and species is described using a standardized format and the relative importance of each species in food agricultural and medical applications is assessed In addition certain other bacterial groups such as Bifidobacterium often associated with the LAB are given in depth coverage The book will also contribute to a better understanding and appreciation of the role of LA B in the various ecosystems and ecological niches that they occupy In summary this volume gathers together information designed to enable the organisms fullest industrial nutritional and medical applications Lactic Acid Bacteria Biodiversity and Taxonomy is
