Touching The Void Documentary:

New Documentary Stella Bruzzi, 2006-09-27 Praise for New Documentary It's refreshing to find a book that cuts through the tired old debates that have surrounded documentary film and television. It heralds a welcome new approach. Sight and Sound Documentary practice changes so fast that books on the subject are often out of date before they are published. Bruzzi's achievement is to have understood the genre as an activity based on performance rather than observation. This is a fresh perspective which illuminates the fundamental shifts that will continue to take place in the genre as it enters its second century. John Ellis, Professor of Media Arts, Royal Holloway University of London. New Documentary provides a contemporary look at documentary and fresh and challenging ways of theorising the non-fiction film. As engaging as the original, this second edition features thorough updates to the existing chapters as well as a brand new chapter on contemporary cinema release documentaries. This new edition includes Contemporary films such as Capturing the Friedmans, tre et avoir, Fahrenheit 9/11, The Fog of War and Touching the Void as well as more canonical texts such as Hoop Dreams and Shoah. Additional interviews with influential practitioners such as director Michael Apted and producer Stephen Lambert. A comprehensively revised discussion of modern observational documentary including docusoaps, reality television and formatted documentaries. The work of documentary filmmakers such as Nicholas Barker, Errol Morris, Nick Broomfield, Molly Dineen and Michael Moore and the work of Avant Garde filmmakers such as Chris Marker and Patrick Keiller. Gender, identity, queer theory, performance, race and spectatorship. Bruzzi shows how theories of documentary filmmaking can be applied to contemporary texts and genres and discusses the relationship between recent innovative examples of the genre and the more established canon of documentary. The This Much is True - 15 Directors on Documentary Filmmaking James Quinn, 2013-01-03 Interest in documentary filmmaking has never been greater. There are more documentaries now playing in mainstream cinemas than ever before. The Documentary Masterclass offers an engaging insight into the techniques of ten leading documentary directors. Rethinking Documentary: New Perspectives and Practices Thomas Austin, Wilma de Jong, 2008-05-16 From a boom in theatrical features to footage posted on websites such as YouTube and Google Video, the early years of the 21st century have witnessed significant changes in the technological, commercial, aesthetic, political and social dimensions of documentaries on film, television and the web. In response to these rapid developments, this book rethinks the notion of documentary in terms of theory, practice and objects of study. Drawing together 26 original essays from scholars and practitioners, it critically assesses ideas and constructions of documentary and where necessary proposes new tools and arguments with which to examine this complex and shifting terrain. Covering a range of media output, the book is divided into four sections: Critical perspectives on documentary forms and concepts; The changing faces of documentary production; Contemporary documentary borders, neighbours and disputed territories; Digital and online documentaries: opportunities and limitations. Rethinking Documentary is valuable reading for scholars and students working in documentary.

Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian

Aitken, 2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumière brothers' Workers Leaving the Lumière Factory 1885 to Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11 2004. This Encyclopedia provides a resource that critically analyzes that history in all its aspects. Not only does this Encyclopedia examine individual films and the careers of individual film makers, it also provides overview articles of national and regional documentary film history. It explains concepts and themes in the study of documentary film, the techniques used in making films, and the institutions that support their production, appreciation, and preservation.

The Documentary Film Book Brian Winston, 2019-07-25 Powerfully posing questions of ethics, ideology, authorship, and form, documentary film has never been more popular than it is today. Edited by one of the leading British authorities in the field, The Documentary Film Book is an essential guide to current thinking on documentary film. In a series of fascinating essays, key international experts discuss the theory of documentary, outline current understandings of its history from pre-Flaherty to the post-Griersonian world of digital iDocs, survey documentary production from Africa to Europe and from the Americas to Asia, consider documentaries by marginalised minority communities, and assess its contribution to other disciplines and arts. Brought together here in one volume, these scholars offer compelling evidence as to why, over the last few decades, documentary has come to the centre of screen studies.

The Documentary Handbook Peter Lee-Wright, 2009-12-04 The Documentary Handbook is mandatory reading for those who want a critical understanding of the place of factual formats in today's exploding television and media industry, as well as expert guidance in complex craft skills in order to fully participate. The practical advice and wisdom here is second to none. Tony Steyger, Principal Lecturer, Southampton Solent University, UK. The Documentary Handbook is a critical introduction to the documentary film, its theory, and changing practices. The book charts the evolution of documentary from screen art to core television genre, its metamorphosis into many different types of factual TV programme, and its current emergence in forms of new media. It analyses those pathways and the transformation of means of production through economic, technical, and editorial changes. The Documentary Handbook explains the documentary process, skills, and job specifications for everyone, from industry entrants to senior personnel, and shows how the industrial evolution of television has relocated the powers and principles of decision making. Through the use of professional Expert Briefings, it gives practical pointers about programme making, from research, developing, and pitching programme ideas to their production and delivery through a fast-evolving multi-platform universe.
