Real Tourism Claudio Minca, Tim Oakes, 2012 Over the past decade tourism studies has broken out of its traditional institutional affiliation with business and management programs to take its legitimate place as an interdisciplinary social science field of cutting edge scholarship The field has emerged as central to ongoing debates in social theory concerning such diverse topics as postcolonialism mobility and postmodernism to name just a few While there has been a diverse body of empirical research on this transformation the theoretical discussions in tourism studies remain largely attached to theories of modernity and Anglo centric assumptions about tourism There is a need for the field to come to terms theoretically with the contemporary and future realities of tourism as a truly global phenomenon Real Tourism is a significant volume which sets this new theoretical agenda engaging directly with what tourism does in practice and in place and demonstrates the need for a theoretical intervention that moves tourism scholarship beyond the province of Anglophone thinking The volume achieves this by explicitly bridging the western and non western scholarship on tourism reframing theoretical discussions around the real practices instead of abstract typologies and radically delinking tourism theory from the grand narratives of modernity and assumptions about authenticity identity tradition and development The book brings together leading academics in the field and provides provocative multidisciplinary and multi contextual reflection on the future of tourism This original timely and compelling volume puts forward new post modernist ideas and arguments about tourism today and in the future It is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in Tourism

Heritage and Tourism Russell Staiff, Robyn Bushell, Steve Watson, 2013-06-26 The complex relationship between heritage places and people in the broadest sense can be considered dialogic a communicative act that has implications for both sides of the conversation This is the starting point for Heritage and Tourism However the dialogue between visitors and heritage sites is complex Visitors have for many decades become synonymous with tourists and the tourism industry and so the dialogic relationship between heritage place and tourists has produced a powerful critique of this often contested relationship Further at the heart of the dialogic relationship between heritage places and people is the individual experience of heritage where generalities give way to particularities of geography place and culture where anxieties about the past and the future mark heritage places as sites of contestation sites of silences sites rendered political and ideological sites powerfully intertwined with representation sites of the imaginary and the imagined Under the aegis of the term dialogues the heritage tourism interaction is reconsidered in ways that encourage reflection about the various communicative acts between heritage places and their visitors and the ways these are currently theorized so as to either step beyond where possible the ontological distinctions between heritage places and tourists or to re imagine the dialogue or both Heritage and Tourism is thus an important contribution to understanding the complex relationship between heritage and tourism Tourism and Citizenship Raoul Bianchi, Marcus Stephenson, 2014-02-24 More than sixty years since the 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights first enshrined the right to freedom of movement in an international charter of human rights the issue of mobility and the right to tourism itself have become increasingly significant areas of scholarly interest and political debate However despite the fact that cross border travel implies certain citizenship rights as well as the material capacity to travel the manifold intersections between tourism and citizenship have not received the attention they deserve in the literature This book endeavours to fill this gap by being the first to fully examine the role of tourism in wider society through a critically informed sociological reflection on the unfolding relationships between international tourism and distinct renderings of citizenship with particular emphasis on the ideological and political alignments between the freedom of movement and the right to travel The text weaves its analysis of citizenship and travel in the context of addressing large scale societal transformations engendered by globalization neoliberalism and the geopolitical realignments between states as well as comprehending the internal reconfiguring of the relationship between citizens and states themselves By doing so it focuses on key themes including tourism and social citizenship rights race culture and minority rights states markets and the freedom of movement tourism peace and geo politics consumerism and class and ethical tourism global citizenship and cosmopolitanism The book concludes that the advancement of genuinely democratic and just forms of tourism must be commensurate with demands for distributive justice and a democratic politics of mobility encompassing all of humanity This timely and significant contribution to the sociology and politics of international tourism through the lens of citizenship is a must read for students and scholars in both in the fields of tourism and social science The royalties received from this book will be donated to the International Porter Protection Group The Local Turn in Tourism Freya Higgins-Desbiolles, Bobbie Chew Bigby, 2022-11-10 In a world that is subject to rapid change and cascading crises this book considers the vital importance of local communities to grounded just and sustainable tourism futures Embracing local tourism as relational the contributors examine how tourism can be reoriented to better connect people place and planet This local turn starts by centring local communities at the heart of tourism and identifies ways to ensure local community rights and benefits in tourism Presenting concepts case studies and practitioner insights the chapters explore what putting locals first might mean the constraints of markets and the promise of alternatives tours and turns offering possibilities for circles cycles and connections approaches for democratising tourism and building an ethos of relatedness through a relational imperative to face the future together The introduction and Chapter 1 are free to download as open access publications under a CC BY NC ND licence You can access them here Freya Higgins Desbiolles and Bobbie Chew Bigby Introduction Embracing the Local Turn in Tourism to Empower Communities <https://zenodo.org/record/7234710/Y1Kd8nbMLcs> Chapter 1 Bobbie Chew Bigby Joseph Edgar and Freya Higgins Desbiolles Place based Governance in Tourism Placing Local Communities at the Centre of Tourism <https://zenodo.org/record/7234717/Y1KpinbMLcs> Cultural Tourism in
