Tears Of The Sea:

Telling Stories Jacqueline Bardolph, André Viola, Jean-Pierre Durix, 2001 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research

But how can she fight back against the most powerful queen all of mankind has ever known? How can she fight back when her Guardian, her dear stranger from the sea, the one who has been chosen to protect her, the one man she has given her heart to, is wearing a mask she cannot see behind? Leilani is taken to the sinister world of the Deep where there are countless secrets to be unraveled, violent games are being played, and where she will have to choose whether she will remain the girl she has always been or embrace the side of herself that she's been running from for years. Maybe only then she can save Keanu. Perhaps only then she can save the sea.
