Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation

On Leatherwood Creek T/Sgt. James Lee Hutchinson EdS,2016-10-14 Life in the poverty of the Great Depression prior to World War II was a serious time which today's generation can only imagine and could not endure However I have used the short story format humor and a sixth grade vocabulary in many stories to encourage reading for ages twelve to ninety The names of my boyhood pals represent many of my childhood pals and stories are based on real events My sketches and photos help set the scene for each short story which stands alone but is more or less in order of events and seasons The sketches also signify that I qualify as a starving artist The twenty five percent unemployment in our community led to many people living on the edge of starvation Families lived in houses without electricity water or central heating and their lives were not complicated by bathrooms air conditioning television computer games or cell phones The outhouse was on the alley and house water came from well pumps or a neighbor's faucet Schools and parents demanded strict discipline and education was important Most families were striving to survive and rear their children to be law abiding citizens Children spent time in the fresh air organized their own games and roamed the streets fields or woodlands However they were assigned home chores and expected to contribute to the family The Greatest Generation saved our country and the freedom we have enjoyed for three quarters of a century
