Engaging People in Sustainability Daniella Tilbury, David Wortman, 2004 The book is based on the exchange of professional experiences which featured in an IUCN CEC workshop in August 2002 Practitioners from around the world shared their models of good practice and explored the challenges involved in engaging people in sustainability The difficulties facing practitioners vary between country and context but some challenges are universal A lack of clarity in communicating what is meant by sustainable development An ambition to educate everyone to bring about a global citizenship Social organisational or institutional factors constrain change to sustainable development yet there is an emphasis on formal education and community educators do not receive the same support A lack of balance in addressing the integration of environmental social and economic dimensions leading to an interpretation that ESD is mainly about environment and conservation issues New learning rather than teaching approaches are called for to promote more debate in society Yet few are trained or experienced in these new approaches Practitioners need support to explore new ways of promoting learning Foreword ed
