School Focus Group Discussion Guide

I. Introduction

Welcome to the School Focus Group Discussion. Your valuable insights will help us understand the needs and preferences of our school community better. We appreciate your time and contributions to make our school a better place for students, parents, and staff. This guide will help facilitate our discussion.

II. Facilitator's Opening Remarks

- Introduce yourself and any other school staff present.
- Explain the purpose of the focus group: To gather feedback and ideas to enhance various aspects of our school.
- Emphasize the importance of honest and constructive feedback.
- Mention that the discussion will be recorded for accurate documentation.

III. Icebreaker

To create a comfortable atmosphere, start with a brief icebreaker activity. For example:

- Share a memorable school experience (as a student, parent, or staff member).
- Name one thing you appreciate most about our school.
- State one aspect you believe could be improved.

Teaching Science Students to Communicate: A Practical Guide Susan Rowland, Louise Kuchel, 2023-04-25 This highly readable book addresses how to teach effective communication in science. The first part of the book provides accessible context and theory about communicating science well and is written by experts. The second part focuses on the practice of teaching communication in science with nuts and bolts lesson plans direct from the pens of practitioners. The book includes over 50 practice chapters each focusing on one or more short teaching activities to target a specific aspect of communication such as writing, speaking and listening. Implementing the activities is made easy with class run sheets, tips and tricks for instructors, signposts to related exercises and theory chapters and further resources. Theory chapters help build instructor confidence and knowledge on the topic of communicating science. The teaching exercises can be used with science students at all levels of education in any discipline and curriculum; the only limitation is a wish to learn to communicate better. Targeted at science faculty members, this book aims to improve and enrich communication teaching within the science curriculum so that science graduates can communicate better as professionals in their discipline and future workplace.

Structure and Improvisation in Creative Teaching R. Keith Sawyer, 2011-06-27 With an increasing emphasis on creativity and innovation in the twenty first century, teachers need to be creative professionals just as students must learn to be creative. And yet schools are institutions with many important structures and guidelines that teachers must follow. Effective creative teaching strikes a delicate balance between structure and improvisation. The authors draw on studies of jazz, theater improvisation and dance improvisation to demonstrate that the most creative performers work within similar structures and guidelines. By looking to these creative genres, the book provides practical advice for teachers who wish to become more creative professionals.
