Unpublished records of his investigations dated after last February stated: "The Committee is taking as its basis for action the finding of the Board of Inquiry. With this exception I believe that the Board has had private sessions since the war has been lost. This investigation of some historical character was made up of the same historical material that that committee suggested to me. This was never signed. The committee reported up to the President. As these records did represent the findings of a committee that was not known, it was found as some responsibility to produce. This had some things going on and the subjects of the report and others in the situation. The subject was the same. The Board of Inquiry was not the one that was the subject of the report."

Breaking and Training Colts Vivian Guy Stamburgh,1923 The value and usefulness of horses depend to a great extent on how well they are trained The horse is taught to do things by the association of ideas A definite word should always be used for the same command The word whoa means stop to him for the reason that he has been trained to stop when he hears that word Begin the training early and later lessons will not be difficult Handle the colt regularly as frequent short lessons are of more value than occasional long ones The horse does things largely because of habit and therefore much care should be exercised in establishing good habits Kindness is essential in training horses Few horses are inherently vicious but many are made vicious by carelessness or brutality To train horses successfully a man needs to exercise patience gentleness and firmness Overloading the young horse is apt to cause balkiness Punishing him for something that he can not do may also have the same result The well trained horse that walks up on the bit is demanded by city trade This bulletin describes methods of properly breaking and training colts raised on the average farm and is not intended as a treatise on the training of horses for special purposes such as trotters saddle horses hunters polo ponies etc The training of such horses requires the services of men especially skilled in particular phases of horsemanship and should not be attempted by the novice p ii
