highly browsable tour of the major innovations of the past twenty centuries and how they shaped our world Peter D Epiro makes this handy overview of human history both fun and thought provoking with his survey of the major firsts inventions discoveries political and military upheavals artistic and scientific breakthroughs religious controversies and catastrophic events of the last two thousand years Who was the first to use gunpowder Invent paper Sack the city of Rome Write a sonnet What was the first university The first astronomical telescope The first great novel The first Impressionist painting The Book of Firsts explores these questions and many more from the earliest surviving cookbook featuring parboiled flamingo and the origin of chess sixth century India to the first civil service exam China in 606 AD and the first tell all memoir about scandalous royals Byzantine Emperor Justinian and Empress Theodora In the form of 150 brief witty erudite and information packed essays The Book of Firsts is ideal for anyone interested in an enjoyable way to acquire a deeper understanding of history and the fascinating personalities who forged it

Structuring the Void Jerome Klinkowitz, 1992 If as the literary theorists of postmodernism contend content does not exist then how can fiction continue to be written Jerome Klinkowitz himself a veteran practitioner and theorist of fiction addresses this question in Structuring the Void an account of what today's novelists and short story writers do when they produce a fictive work Klinkowitz focuses on the ways in which writers finding themselves in the same position as abstract painters and death of God theologians have turned their inquiry itself into subject matter and he shows how this approach has in recent years produced something more than mere metafictional self questioning With no subject to structure the writers Klinkowitz discusses nonetheless persist in the act of structuring For Kurt Vonnegut this has meant finding a form for an otherwise unrepresentable world by organizing his autobiography as a narrative device In the generation following Vonnegut Max Apple makes a similar move in the ritualization of a national history and popular culture while Gerald Rosen and Rob Swigart invent a style of literary comedy based on their comic response to a new imaginative state the state of California Klinkowitz also considers subjects that though they cannot be represented nevertheless exercise constraints on a writer's intention to structure In recent decades two of these pressing themes have been gender as seen here in the works of Grace Paley and war the Vietnam conflict itself as well as the struggles of two generations to come to terms with it Structuring the void left when content collapses these writers have as Klinkowitz demonstrates developed an entirely new style of fiction one that necessarily privileges space over time and self invention over representation
