Some Of Us Chinese Women Growing Up In The Mao:

Some of Us Xueping Zhong,Zheng Wang,Bai Di,2001 Some of Us is a collection of memoirs by nine Chinese women who grew up during the Mao era All hail from urban backgrounds and all have obtained their Ph D s in the United States thus their memories are informed by intellectual training and insights that only distance can allow Each of the chapters arranged by the age of the author is crafted by a writer who reflects back to that time in a more nuanced manner than has been possible for Western observers The authors attend to gender in a way that male writers have barely noticed and reflect on their lives in the United States

The Cold War in Asia Zheng Yangwen,Hong Liu,Michael Szonyi,2010-02-16 The Cold War stayed cold in Europe but it was hot in Asia Its legacy lives on in the region In none of the three dominant historiographical paradigms orthodox revisionist and post revisionist does Asia or the rest of the Third World figure with much significance What happens to these narratives if we put them to the test in Asia This volume argues that attention to what has been conventionally considered the periphery is essential to a full understanding of the global Cold War Foregrounding Asia necessarily leads to a re assessment of the dominant narratives This volume also argues for a shift in focus from diplomacy and high politics alone towards research into the culture of the Cold War era and its public diplomacy As a whole the essays contribute to enriching our understanding of what was really happening in an era that is too often understood in the catch all framework of the Cold War Akira Iriye Harvard University

Gender Hierarchy of Masculinity and Femininity during the Chinese Cultural Revolution Zhuying Li,2020-11-25 Focusing on the influence of Maoist ideology and masculinist power on the representations of women in revolutionary opera films made during the Cultural Revolution this book considers the gendered hierarchy between masculinity and femininity in relation to the historic and cultural context in which they were made Using feminist methodology and epistemology to locate women s social identity this book explores the sociological connections between the masculinisation of women and masculinist domination in the context of the Cultural Revolution Through film analysis the author examines whether women rather than liberated were in fact re gendered and oppressed by masculinist power By critically evaluating gender hierarchy during the Chinese Cultural Revolution the book provides hitherto neglected insights into gender within its social and cultural context This an interdisciplinary book which should appeal to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including gender studies Asian studies China studies cultural studies and film studies

Miseducation A. J. Angulo,2016-04-01 A provocative collection that explores how intentional ignorance seeps into formal education Honorable Mention for the PROSE Education Theory Award of the Association of American Publishers Ignorance or the study of ignorance is having a moment Ignorance plays a powerful role in shaping public opinion channeling our politics and even directing scholarly research The first collection of essays to grapple with the historical interplay between education and ignorance Miseducation finds ignorance and its social production through na vet passivity and active agency at the center of many pivotal historical developments Ignorance allowed Americans to maintain the institution of slavery Nazis to promote ideas of race that fomented genocide in the 1930s and tobacco companies to downplay the dangers of cigarettes Today ignorance enables some to deny the fossil record and others to ignore climate science A J Angulo brings together seventeen experts from across the scholarly spectrum to explore how intentional ignorance seeps into formal education Each chapter identifies education as a critical site for advancing our still limited understanding of what exactly ignorance is where it comes from and how it is diffused maintained and regulated in society Miseducation also challenges the notion that schools are ideally unimpeachable sites of knowledge production access and equity By investigating how laws myths national aspirations and global relations have recast and at times distorted the key purposes of education this pathbreaking book sheds light on the role of ignorance in shaping ideas public opinion and policy Shanghai Tai Chi Hanchao Lu,2023-05-11 A captivating social and political history of Shanghai under high socialism Lu explores the lived experience of Mao's China Consuming China Kevin Latham, Stuart Thompson, Jakob Klein, 2012-08-21 Post Mao China has been characterized in literature and the media as a burgeoning consumer society. Consuming China investigates this characterization by examining the cultural significance of consumption and consumerism in the People's Republic of China today. In questioning the notion of consumption, this impressive work suggests that it is not simply a symptom of economic reform within China, neither a product of the emergence and transformation of contemporary Chinese capitalism. Rather, the essays offer a new perspective on Chinese consumption by focusing on more than just consumerism, looking at the practices of consumption in relation to different manifestations of social and cultural change. Drawing on case studies from Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the People's Republic of China, Consuming China affords a greater understanding of the practice of Chinese consumption and will appeal to China scholars and anthropologists and to those with an interest in cultural and gender studies.

China and New Left Visions Jie Lu, Ban Wang, 2012-07-20 Against the dire consequences of China's market development, a new intellectual force of the New Left has come on the scene since the mid 1990s. New Left intellectuals debate the issues of social justice, distributive equality, markets, state intervention, the socialist legacy, and sustainable development. Against the neoliberal trends of free markets, liberal democracy, and consumerism, New Left critics launched a critique in hopes of seeking an alternative to global capitalism. This volume takes a comprehensive look at China's New Left in intellectual, cultural, and literary manifestations. The writers place the New Left within a global anti-hegemonic movement and the legacy of the Cold War. They discover grassroots literature that portrays the plight and resilience of the downtrodden and disadvantaged. With historical visions, the writers also shed light on the present by drawing on the socialist past.

Coming of Age in Chinese Literature and Cinema Andrea Riemenschnitter, Kiu-wai Chu, Mung Ting Chung, 2025-10-01 With the inclusion of twelve original articles by established and emerging international scholars, this volume offers critical reading of literary and cinematic texts produced in China and Sinophone communities between the 1950s and 2010s. The articles portray the lineage and mutations of the Chinese Bildungsroman, providing insights into the tensions between individual and society, nation and the world, and the multiple social, ecological, and virtual realities of recent decades. Concerned with how coming-of-age narratives have persistently returned and evolved over time, the book addresses themes such as family and social change, gender, class, and generational divides, local/global politics, and the ecological and posthuman turns in Chinese Sinophone culture. It offers a fresh look on how the transnational and transgenerational journeys of Bildungsroman and coming-of-age narratives continuously transform and reinvigorate generic conventions to explore adolescence as a formative social force and aesthetic experience in Chinese Sinophone literature and film. This book aims to open up dialogues for better understanding emergent cultural forms that reflect social instability arising from the global spread of contemporary neo-liberal capitalism and to constitute the foundation of an innovative history of Sinophone literature. It does not only take into account the complicated survival struggles of the subjects of Mao's revolution, including refugee immigrants turned colonial subjects but also the interaction between literature and the arts as well as between human and nonhuman agents place material culture nature etc
