To Die For The Killing Machine:

How to Die in the Outdoors Buck Tilton, 2009-10-01 By living a normal boring life like most people do one has an excellent chance of becoming yet another statistic on the proverbial list of the leading causes of death Of course the process can be accelerated a bit by eating lots of fat giving up exercise smoking drinking heavily not water and worrying Buck Tilton prefers to ponder the alternatives In How to Die in the Outdoors he presents us with 110 far more interesting and unique ways to perish snake bite elephant foot walrus tusk rhino horn and many many more In a straightforward style laced with his trademark wit and presented in easy to understand terms Tilton describes not only the details of how one can die some intriguingly gory and all based more or less on facts but also the ways to avoid death should life threatening situations arise in which one is not ready to check out of this world and into whatever afterlife there may be Death on the Zambezi Christopher Burns, 2002-04-09 This spellbinding thriller offers a different explanation as to what has happened to the natives in Africa What program if any has eradicated the natives Will the white man succeed at taking over Have they already killed the native population of the future When will the fighting end When will people be able to live in peace Will it take Death on the Zambezi to stop the bloodshed once and for all Reading the book will answer some questions and raise some others Enjoy the twist of this African tale Schizoanalysis and Animal Science Education Helena Pedersen, 2019-02-07 Within the education system acts of violence toward animals take place and are manifested on a routine basis in science classes in lecture halls in school canteens and during study visits to zoos farms and slaughterhouses Taken for granted as necessary for teaching and learning this violence profoundly affects animals as well as students It also provides new entry points for understanding education as a multispecies power regime driven by numerous other investments than knowledge dissemination alone What then is the nature of this educational violence and how exactly does education work through techniques of interference with student and animal bodies Based on ethnographic research within upper secondary schools and higher education this book challenges the use of animals in education by innovative engagement of Deleuze and Guattari's tool of schizoanalysis Sparking a fundamental rethinking of educational processes relations and aims the book explores how scientific knowledge about animals proliferates through complex interplay of power and desire in contested spaces of teaching and learning Configuring animal science education as a set of machines working in tandem with the animal industry Helena Pedersen offers radical new insights into how education forms subjectivities and social orders under conditions of capitalist expansion that capture students and animals alike Bringing together education studies science studies critical animal studies and continental philosophy Pedersen also provides examples of disruptive action that can put education to work for transformation and liberation The Death of Lifeguards Roger Kriney, 2013-07 The funeral service of an old friend co worker and college roommate is the back drop of a forty year mystery Former Seaside Heights Lifeguard and Ocean County Prosecutors Office Investigator Bobby Jamison passes away at his new home in southern Alabama as he was approaching his mid sixties At the memorial service in Seaside Park New Jersey old colleagues gather to celebrate his life The collages and arrays of photographs and memorabilia throughout the room draw those mourners back to the days many years earlier when one of their own died under suspicious circumstances involving Jamison s widow Bobby s death and the celebration of his life by those mourners finally brings a belated close to the summer of 1968 This is a tragic love story spanning decades when the lives of each of the old friends were greatly changed due to those few years in the mid to late 1960 s The war in Vietnam the social unrest the civil rights movement and the heartbreaking world changing events of that time all play a role in the ultimate outcome of the lives of each of those lifeguards Kubrick's Men Richard

Rambuss,2021-03-02 A provocative re reading of Stanley Kubrick s work and its focus on masculine desire The work of Stanley Kubrick amounts to a sustained reflection on the male condition past present and future The persistent theme of his filmmaking is less violence or sex than it is the pressurized exertion of masculinity in unusual or extreme circumstances where it may be taxed or exaggerated to various effects tragic and comic or metamorphosed distorted and even undone The stories that Kubrick s movies tell range from global nuclear politics to the unpredictable sexual dynamics of a marriage from a day in the life of a New York City prizefighter preparing for a nighttime bout to the evolution of humankind These male melodramas center on sociality and asociality They feature male doubles pairs and rivals They explore the romance of men and their machines and men as machines They figure intensely conflicted forms of male sexual desire And they are also very much about male manners style taste and art Examining the formal thematic and theoretical affiliations between Kubrick s three bodies of work his photographs his documentaries and his feature films Kubrick s Men offers new vantages on to the question of gender and sexuality including the first extended treatment of homosexuality in Kubrick s male oriented work

How to Die Ray Robertson,2020-01-28 A radical revaluation of how contemporary society perceives death and an argument for how it can make us happy He who would teach men to die would teach them to live writes Montaigne in Essais and in How to Die A Book about Being Alive Ray Robertson takes up the challenge Though contemporary society avoids the subject and often values the mere continuation of existence over its quality Robertson argues that the active and intentional consideration of death is neither morbid nor frivolous but instead essential to our ability to fully value life How to Die is both an absorbing excursion through some of Western literature s most compelling works on the subject of death as well as an anecdote driven argument for cultivating a better understanding of death in the belief that if we do we ll know more about what it means to live a meaningful life Memories and Regrets Dave Soboleski,2021-11-08 This book I wrote Memories and Regrets is a labor of love death unimaginable fights and reconciliation It s a full circle of my life and the special people I keep close to me

Everyday Echoes Among African Scholars and Raconteurs Augustine Agwuele,Edna Ogeto,Bonface Otieno Okinyi,2025-01-27 This volume offers a distinctive blend of scholarly essays short stories and poems to illuminate the everyday experiences and aspects of life of African peoples It brings together the perspectives of scholars and artists using their varied genres to inspire reflection on their quest towards a society that is equitable just and supportive of its people's pursuit of a fulfilling life even as they embrace and maintain their authentic selves By bridging disciplinary boundaries and geographical divides this book merges rigorous empirical research with the imaginative insights of storytellers and the evocative creativity of poets providing a rich humanistic exploration of society and existence The volume is organized into three sections Part One features scholarly essays addressing themes in the humanities including politics popular culture language and ethnology Part Two offers a series of short stories that capture the complexities of day to day living Part Three presents a collection of poems that explicates various issues affecting individuals communities and the broader African continent

Anna Niccolò Ammaniti, 2017-08-03 It is four years since the virus came killing every adult in its path Not long after that the electricity failed Food and water started running out Fires raged across the country Now Anna cares for her brother alone in a house hidden in the woods keeping him safe from the Outside But when the time comes Anna knows they must leave their world and find another By turns luminous and tender gripping and horrifying Anna is a haunting parable of love and loneliness of the stories we tell to sustain us and the lengths we will go to in order to stay alive The Unfinished

K. Olukoya, 2016-01-25 Take a walk in the woods S. R. Rangarajan, 2021-10-20 This book takes the reader to the unknown world of nature It is an invitation to the readers inner forests to walk in the outer Wilde's The author is trying to unearth the connection between the hidden will and the wild Woods He pursued his enquiry by moving around the globe and becoming an earnest student to learn more about Mother Nature He travels through the wild forests in British Columbia searching for the Blue Mind Effect and its proximity with water bodies Shinrin yoku life span of people in Okinawa and the healing code of nature everything is well explained in this book Imaginations of Death and the Beyond in India and

Europe Günter Blamberger, Sudhir Kakar, 2018-03-27 This volume explores current images of afterlife afterdeath and the presence of the dead in the imaginations of the living in Indian and European traditions Specifically it focuses on the deepest and most fundamental uncertainty of human existence the awareness of human mortality on which depends any assignment of meaning to earthly existence as also to notions of worldly and otherworldly salvation This central idea is addressed in the literature arts audiovisual media and other cultural artefacts of the two traditions The chapters are based on two main assumptions First that one cannot report on the direct experience of death so it is only possible to speak allegorically of it

Second in contemporary Western societies marked by structural atheism people look at literature the arts and mass media to study their depiction and reading of traditionally religious questions of disease death and the Beyond This is in contrast to Asian civilizations whose preoccupation with death and Beyond is persistent and perhaps central to the civilizations highest thought The chapters cover a wide spectrum of disciplinary approaches from psychoanalysis to religious anthropological literary and film studies from sociology and philosophy to art history and address issues of unsettling power comforting illusions of afterlife the relations between afterlife and fertility visions of technological immortalization of mankind the problem of thinking about death after the death of God socialist utopias of bodily immortality fear of Hell and punishment different concepts in relating the living and the dead near death experiences and cultural practices of spiritualism occultism and suicide

The Ashgate Research Companion to Military Ethics James Turner Johnson, Eric D. Patterson, 2015-02-28 This Companion provides scholars and graduates serving and retired military professionals members of the diplomatic and policy communities concerned with security affairs and legal professionals who deal with military law and with international law on armed conflicts with a comprehensive and authoritative state of the art review of current research in the area of military ethics Topics in this volume reflect both perennial and pressing contemporary issues in the ethics of the use of military force and are written by established professionals and respected commentators Subjects are organized by three major perspectives on the use of military force the decision whether to use military force in a given context the matter of right conduct in the use of such force and ethical responsibilities beyond the end of an armed conflict Treatment of issues in each of these sections takes account of both present day moral challenges and new approaches to these and the historical tradition of just war Military ethics as it has developed has been a particularly Western concern and this volume reflects that reality However in a globalized world awareness of similarities and differences between Western approaches and those of other major cultures is essential For this reason the volume concludes with chapters on ethics and war in the Islamic Chinese and Indian traditions with the aim of integrating reflection on these approaches into the broad consideration of military ethics provided by this volume
