Jurgens, Steven Tolliday, 1998-11-19 Recent years have seen intense debates among management and academics on the rise of lean production and Japanization Some authors have stressed the universal impact of new forms of work organization and best practice while others have questioned the limits of convergence stressed the weight of national contexts or societal effects or highlighted the evolutionary effects of unpredictability in the external environment The international automobile industry has been a focus for much of this debate and this book written by a team of leading international researchers in the field uses this industry to examine in detail the actual practice of the transfer and adaptation of productive models and the trajectories of innovation compromise and failure that can result Case studies cover in detail the Japanese transplant experience in North America and the global experience of hybrid production systems in Europe Latin America and Asia The book contributes to theoretical discussions about the transfer adaptation or convergence of productive models In particular the authors argue that direct transplantation or imitation of these models is rarely feasible or even desirable Systems cannot be transferred without being significantly reshaped Instead the book focuses on the process of hybridization the complex interaction of productive models with national and societal effects Hybridization it is argued is inevitable But this should be seen not simply as a process of compromise and retreat but also as an important dynamic of innovation and learning This book is from the French based international research network GERPISA Groupe d'étude de recherche permanent sur l'industrie et les salariés de l'automobile See related titles below

Mastering German Vocabulary Bruce C. Donaldson,2004 How often have you looked up an English word in a German dictionary only to be confronted by a bewildering array of German equivalents Which is the correct word for the context in question Thirty years experience in teaching Germanic languages at tertiary level to English speaking students have made the author acutely aware of this problem Mastering German Vocabulary explains how to use over 2 200 common German words correctly using example sentences in German with English translations In order to aid quick consultation all German and English words are listed in separate indexes The book is designed for all upper secondary and tertiary students of German and complements Routledge's grammar dictionary and vocabulary building textbooks. It is a practical companion for anyone serious about perfecting their German. The Routledge Companion to the Geography of International Business Gary Cook, Jennifer Johns, Frank McDonald, Jonathan Beaverstock, Naresh Pandit, 2018-05-08. The fields of Economic Geography and International Business share an interest in the same phenomena whilst each provides both a differing perspective and different research methods in attempting to understand those phenomena. The Routledge Companion to the Geography of International Business explores the nature and scope of interdisciplinary work between Economic Geography and International Business in explaining the central issues in the international economy. Contributions written by leading specialists in each field including some chapters written by interdisciplinary teams focus on the nature of multinational firms and their strategies where they choose to locate their activities how they create and manage international networks and the key relationships between multinationals and the places where they place their operations. Topics covered include the internationalisation of service industries the influence of location on the competitiveness of firms and the economic dynamism of regions and where economic activity takes place and how knowledge goods and services flow between locations. The book examines the areas for fruitful interdisciplinary work between International Business and Economic Geography and sets out a road map for future joint research and is an essential resource for students and practitioners of International Business and Economic Development.

Automotive FDI in Emerging Europe A. J. Jacobs, 2017-06-19. This book examines the dramatic increase in automotive assembly plants in the former Socialist Central European (CE) nations of Czechia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Slovakia from 1989 onwards. Enticed by relatively lower wage labour and significant government incentives, the world's largest automakers have launched more than 20 passenger car assembly complexes in CE nations with production accelerating dramatically since 2001. As a result, the annual passenger car production in Western Europe declined by more than 20% between 2001 and 2015 and alternatively in the CEE it increased by nearly 170% during this period. Drawing on case studies of 25 current and former foreign-run assembly plants, the author presents a rare historical account of automotive foreign assembly plants in the CE following this dramatic geographic shift. This book will expand the knowledge of policy makers in Europe in relation to their pursuits of FDI and will be of great interest to scholars and students of business, economic history, political science and development.

Plastics in the Automotive Industry J. Maxwell, 1994-03-31. A survey of the role of plastics materials in the motor industry. It discusses progress in the different sectors of automotive engineering and the possible effect of economic and environmental pressures on the growth of the plastics contribution. Emphasis is given to materials selection and the author explains how a material can be right or wrong for a particular job and what extraneous factors could change things.
