from
The Physics of Radiology, Fourth Edition

H. E. JOHNS
J. R. CUNNINGHAM

This book serves as a practical guide to solving problems presented in THE PHYSICS OF RADIATION, Fourth Edition. The authors selected the most interesting and useful radiological physics problems they can use to solve problems and then arranged classroom problems, making and discussing solutions. This book is intended to enhance the process. Approximate half of the problems found at the end of each chapter in the text have been selected with appropriate solutions provided. Solutions include, where appropriate, discussion of assumptions that may have to be made, and where the relevant formulas and data are to be found. Explanations of the reasoning used in solving the problems are given in the solutions. Problems that are selected to show the important aspects of each chapter.
