Information Resources,2011-05-31 This multi volume reference examines critical issues and emerging trends in global business with topics ranging from managing new information technology in global business operations to ethics and communication strategies Provided by publisher Introduction of IAS / IFRS by the BMW AG in 2000 Johannes-Cornelius Adari,Henrik Thrane,Pascale Taube,2004-08-11 Inhaltsangabe Abstract This case study deals with an important financial aspect of multinational companies i e their obligation of accounting Until the year 2000 BMW used to prepare its annual external audits under German Commercial Code Standards HGB This tradition ended in 2000 when BMW accounted under International Accounting Standards IAS for the first time 7 years before Mercedes Benz was the first German automotive manufacturer adopting international Standards in 1993 But in Mercedes case US Generally Accepted Accounting Principles US GAAP were chosen because the objective was to become listed at the New York Stock Exchange NYSE At this time US GAAP were not accepted outside the North American Free Trade Association NAFTA esp not by the EU Commission but the US Principles were applied in the largest and most important stock market worldwide On the other hand US organizations like the Securities and Exchange Commission SEC did not accept any other accounting standards in these days Accordingly Mercedes Benz had to prepare two annual audits one under US GAAP and the other under HGB This treatment obviously was highly inefficient providing lots of encumbrances to US capital seeking European companies accounting and auditing took too much time personnel resources and money Another negative effect was that many US companies hesitated with urgently required investments in Europe But nevertheless multinational groups seemed to have several advantages by using international accounting standards even if they had to prepare more than one audit annually Within the 1st part this case study provides basic information dealing with accounting standards in particular reasons and objectives organizational patterns and the process of IAS becoming international accepted by pointing out their most important differences compared to US GAAP and German HGB Standards The 2nd part deals with the reasons of changing BMW s accounting standards by looking at the Group s key markets and the impact of IAS adoption by examining their figures of non current assets inventories other current assets liabilities deferred incomes provisions equity as well as research development within a four years comparison At last the 3rd part gives an examination and summary of the results of IAS reception for BMW the effects on the stock market changes of rating on the global market and gives hints to future Focusing on premium brands Johannes-Cornelius Adari,Henrik Thrane,Pascale Taube,2004-08-11 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The word marketing is always appearing in most articles and books dealing with selling the word has been watered down and in many cases lost its true value and sense Most people mistakenly identify marketing with selling and promotion but selling is only the tip of the marketing iceberg It is simply one of several marketing functions and often not the most important one If the marketer does a good job of identifying consumer needs developing appropriate products and pricing distributing and promoting them effectively these goods will sell very easily Companies have to search for buyers identify their needs design appropriate products promote them store and transport them negotiate and so on Such activities as product development search communication distribution pricing and service constitute core marketing activities We have defined the core marketing activities supporting the sales force in their pursuit of revenues and profit The marketing department have to focus multiple tasks ranging from product development to pricing Often the marketing department is so intertwined in the sales processes that the marketing and sales division is one division in order to maintain the direction required in order to achieve the objectives set up by the management In the first part of this case we will look at the general term strategic marketing and set up fictitious examples of how a company in the automotive industry would deal with strategic marketing and look at the tools available to the marketing department and how they are implemented Being a multinational company like BMW you need a strategy for virtually prior to make a decision and this applies to marketing as well The company has the past two decades developed from an international company to a global player where the set of standards are different and the requirement for setting up a marketing strategy has changed We have decided in this case to analyze the decisions behind launching certain products such as the roadster the Z Series and the X Series which meant that BMW for the first time in its history ventured into new segments normally being dominated by other manufactures The decision to leave the traditional segment where BMW had for years been successful and diversify the product line will be analysed and in the introduction we will try to cast a light on the tools and means behind such decisions In the middle of the The effective reorganization of BMW Group applied to the New MINI Johannes-Cornelius Adari, Henrik Thrane, Pascale Taube, 2004-08-11 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The story of the automobile manufacturer production can not be told without the story of Henry Ford who was one of the pioneers constructing his first horseless carriage in 1896 He incorporated the Ford Motor Company in 1903 proclaiming I will build a car for the great multitude As predicted he did so in 1908 offering a Model T for 950 This model heralds the beginning of the motor age The car evolved from a former luxury item for the well to do to essential transportation for the ordinary man Ford also revolutionized automobile manufacturing in 1914 the Ford plant used innovation production techniques and was able to turn out a complete chassis every 95 minutes That was a revolution in the automobile manufacturing at the time because the former production time took about 730 minutes to turn out a complete chassis Ford achieved that fast production time by using a constantly moving assembly line subdivision of labor careful coordination of operations and he began to pay nearly double the wages offered by their competitors His innovations made him an international celebrity in the industrial revolution and he was one of the first who thought about effective organization to achieve a higher productivity Ford s methods that changed the automobile production were perhaps not mainly the introduction of the assembly line his goal was also to constantly standardizing the use of craftsmen That firstly resulted in a high product variety despite in fact that they had been made using the same drawing Secondly a lot of time was spent in fitting the parts together These facts influenced major loss in productivity and under such circumstances a real mass production was not possible But by standardizing components and developing work routines was the first scope for an assembly line approach The target of our case study is to present and analyze the changes in companies organizations applied to the example of BMW The opening part will summarize the history of the working and organizing techniques in general The middle part will focus on the changes in production organization in the automotive industry followed by the last part analyzing new strategies in Sales Marketing regarding the rebirth of MINI by the BMW Group Zusammenfassung Die vorliegende englischsprachige Projektarbeit behandelt das Thema effektive Reorganisation in Produktion Vertrieb und Marketing in der Automobilindustrie am
