Psychoanalysing Ambivalence with Freud and Lacan Stephanie Swales, Carol Owens, 2019-11-27 Taking a deep dive into contemporary Western culture this book suggests we are all fundamentally ambivalent beings A great deal has been written about how to love to be kinder more empathic a better person and so on But trying to love without dealing with our ambivalence with our hatred is often a recipe for failure Any attempt therefore to love our neighbour as ourselves or even for that matter to love ourselves must recognise that we love where we hate and we hate where we love Psychoanalysis beginning with Freud has claimed that to be in two minds about something or someone is characteristic of human subjectivity Owens and Swales trace the concept of ambivalence through its various iterations in Freudian and Lacanian psychoanalysis in order to question how the contemporary subject deals with its ambivalence They argue that experiences of ambivalence are in present day cultural life increasingly excised or foreclosed and that this foreclosure has symptomatic effects at the individual as well as social level Owens and Swales examine ambivalence as it is at work in mourning in matters of sexuality and in our enjoyment under neoliberalism and capitalism Above all the authors consider how today s ambivalent subject relates to the racially religiously culturally or sexually different neighbour as a result of the current societal dictate of complete tolerance of the other In this vein Owens and Swales argue that ambivalence about one's own jouissance is at the very roots of xenophobia Peppered with relevant and stimulating examples from clinical work film television politics and everyday life Psychoanalysing Ambivalence breathes new life into an old concept and will appeal to any reader academic or clinician with an interest in psychoanalytic ideas The Lost Causes Jessica Koosed Etting, Alyssa Embree
