Cybernetic-Existentialism Steve Dixon, 2019-11-14 Cybernetic Existentialism Freedom Systems and Being for Others in Contemporary Arts and Performance offers a unique discourse and an original aesthetic theory It argues that fusing perspectives from the philosophy of Existentialism with insights from the universal science of cybernetics provides a new analytical lens and deconstructive methodology to critique art In this study Steve Dixon examines how a range of artists works reveal the ideas of Existentialist philosophers including Kierkegaard Camus de Beauvoir and Sartre on freedom being and nothingness eternal recurrence the absurd and being for others Simultaneously these artworks are shown to engage in complex explorations of concepts proposed by cyberneticians including Wiener Shannon and Bateson on information theory and noise feedback loops circularity adaptive ecosystems autopoiesis and emergence Dixon's groundbreaking book demonstrates how fusing insights and knowledge from these two fields can throw new light on pressing issues within contemporary arts and culture including authenticity angst and alienation homeostasis radical politics and the human as system

New York Magazine, 1993-02-01 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Dead Elvis Greil Marcus,1999 Listening in on public conversation that recreates Elvis after death Marcus tracks Presley's resurrection He grafts together snatches of film music books newspapers photos posters and cartoons and amazes us with what America has been saying as it raises its late king and also what this obsession with dead Elvis says about America itself The Art of Classic Planning Nir Haim Buras,2020-01-28 An accomplished architect and urbanist goes back to the roots of what makes cities attractive and livable demonstrating how we can restore function and beauty to our urban spaces for the long term Nearly everything we treasure in the world's most beautiful cities was built over a century ago Cities like Prague Paris and Lisbon draw millions of visitors from around the world because of their exquisite architecture walkable neighborhoods and human scale Yet a great deal of the knowledge and practice behind successful city planning has been abandoned over the last hundred years not because of traffic population growth or other practical hurdles but because of ill considered theories emerging from Modernism and reactions to it The errors of urban design over the last century are too great not to question The solutions being offered today sustainability walkability smart and green technologies hint at what has been lost and what may be regained but they remain piecemeal and superficial In The Art of Classic Planning architect and planner Nir Haim Buras documents and extends the time tested and holistic practices that held sway before the reign of Modernism With hundreds of full color illustrations and photographs that will captivate architects planners administrators and developers The Art of Classic Planning restores and revitalizes the foundations of urban planning Inspired by venerable cities like Kyoto Vienna and Venice and by the great successes of L'Enfant's Washington Haussmann's Paris and Burnham's Chicago Buras combines theory and a host of examples to arrive at clear guidelines for best practices in classic planning for today's world The Art of Classic Planning celebrates the enduring principles of urban design and invites us to return to building beautiful cities ,

 New York Magazine ,1992-03-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
