

For 2 to 4 Players • Ages 10 & Up

Contents: 164 Cards

Object: Score the least points by being first to exhaust your stockpile.

Set Up:

- Get acquainted with the cards. You'll see that there are only Hearts and Spades, numbered 1 through 5, and Wild cards.
- You'll need a pad of paper and pencil to keep score at the end of each hand.
- Shuffle and deal 20 cards, one at a time, to each player. Players should gather and stack these cards (without looking at them) in front of themselves and turn over the top card and place it on top of the stack. This stack is called your "stockpile."
- Then deal 5 more cards, one at a time, to each player. Everybody to a total of four community piles in the center of the table; two piles for Hearts on one side of the draw pile, and two piles for Spades on the opposite side of the draw pile, as shown in the diagram.

Play:

- If you're left of the dealer, you go first, and then play goes to the left around the table.
- On your turn, you may play any card or cards, in any combination, from your hand, from the top of your stockpile, or from your discard piles (if you have any). You play these cards onto either of the community Hearts piles or community Spades piles in the center.

Gaming the Stage Gina Bloom, 2018-07-10 Rich connections between gaming and theater stretch back to the 16th and 17th centuries when England s first commercial theaters appeared right next door to gaming houses and blood sport arenas In the first book length exploration of gaming in the early modern period Gina Bloom shows that theaters succeeded in London s new entertainment marketplace largely because watching a play and playing a game were similar experiences

Audiences did not just see a play they were encouraged to play the play and knowledge of gaming helped them become better theatergoers Examining dramas written for these theaters alongside evidence of analog games popular then and today Bloom argues for games as theatrical media and theater as an interactive gaming technology Gaming the Stage also introduces a new archive for game studies scenes of onstage gaming which appear at climactic moments in dramatic literature Bloom reveals plays to be systems of information for theater spectators games of withholding divulging speculating and wagering on knowledge Her book breaks new ground through examinations of plays such as The Tempest Arden of Faversham A Woman Killed with Kindness and A Game at Chess the histories of familiar games such as cards backgammon and chess less familiar ones like Game of the Goose and even a mixed reality theater videogame Systematical Vocabulary English-Esperanto According to the German Text of Oscar Hecker Oskar Hecker,1907
