Medicinal Effects of Agathosma (Buchu) Extracts Barbara Huisamen,Patrick J.D. Bouic,Carmen Pheiffer,Mignon van Vuuren,2019-12-12 The research results presented in this book span the quest of Cape Kingdom Nutraceuticals Prof Patrick Bouic and Prof Barbara Huisamen to scientifically validate the health promoting properties of an aqueous extract of the plant Agathosma To accomplish this they made use of both in vitro and in vivo models to understand and underscore the anecdotal information of the benefits of this product Cell based studies highlighted anti inflammatory and anti diabetic effects while animal based studies were utilized to confirm the anti diabetic effects whilst further elaborating on anti obesity properties In addition technology aimed at small animals were used to follow blood pressure to demonstrate anti hypertensive effects while ex vivo perfused hearts were studied to show that this extract also protected the heart against an ischaemic incident In view of the current pandemic of obesity and non communicable diseases the research results presented in this book will be of special interest to the scientific community and health practitioners interested in cardiometabolic diseases and nutraceuticals as an alternative treatment option In view of the failure of many pharmaceuticals to curb non communicable diseases these results are deemed of high importance Factors impacting African women's doctoral success Lifutso Tsephe,2023-12-20 With the knowledge economy playing such a critical role in global economic development increasing the number of Doctor of Philosophy degree PhD graduates in higher education institutions worldwide has been imperative The knowledge economy emphasises the importance of critical thinkers and researchers as doctoral education cultivates thinkers and researchers and equips them to participate in development African identifying females account for 30% of doctoral graduates in sub Saharan African countries even when PhD education is viewed as an entry into academia and a gateway to careers in research and other disciplines There is a paucity of research regarding PhD graduates who are specifically women in Africa as a result there is little information about their attributes to success in PhD studies what opportunities and freedoms they have and what challenges they face during their PhD journey along with their motivation to overcome these challenges so that they can achieve their goals It is essential for women in Africa to complete their PhD education to contribute to the development of their countries as some scholars believe no nation can grow without women s participation Thus modern civilisation is the result of males and females cooperating in modern society Even though some women

complete their PhD studies there is scant research on what strategies enabled their success. Instead the reasons for their attrition are known. This book aims to contribute to PhD education scholarship specifically for women in Africa. It allows women in Africa to narrate their PhD experiences through resilience theory and the capabilities approach lenses. A World of Indigenous Languages Teresa L. McCarty, Sheilah E. Nicholas, Gillian Wigglesworth, 2019-03-13. Spanning Indigenous settings in Africa, the Americas, Aotearoa, New Zealand, Australia, Central Asia, and the Nordic countries, this book examines the multifaceted language reclamation work underway by Indigenous peoples throughout the world. Exploring political, historical, ideological, and pedagogical issues, the book foregrounds the decolonizing aims of contemporary Indigenous language movements inside and outside of schools. Many authors explore language reclamation in their own communities. Together, the authors call for expanded discourses on language planning and policy that embrace Indigenous ways of knowing and forefront grassroots language reclamation efforts as a force for Indigenous sovereignty, social justice, and self-determination. This volume will be of interest to scholars, educators, and students in applied linguistics, Ethnic Indigenous Studies, education, second language acquisition, and comparative international education, and to a broader audience of language educators, revitalizers, and policymakers. The Report: South Africa 2012, 2012. Migration in Southern Africa Pragna Rugunanan, Nomkhosi Xulu-Gama, 2022-05-30. This open access Regional Reader proposes new ways of theorizing migration in Southern Africa by arguing that traditional western forms of theorizing do not adequately fit the South-South migration context. It explores the existing definitions of a migrant with a view to conceptualise a definition which will speak to the complexities envisioning a more inclusive Southern African region. The book investigates the various levels of migration, moving from the local rural to urban and urban to rural to cross-border migration, middle class versus working class migrant household livelihoods, livelihoods procurement versus wage earning, social capital networks, and how they make meaning of their circumstances in a foreign space. It also acknowledges the intertwined issues of gender and class as important in analyzing migration processes, and the chapters feature both in varying dimensions. As such, the book provides a great resource for students, academics, and policy makers. Accessing Post-School Studies Venicia McGhie & Madge du Preez, 2017-12-01. Accessing Post-School Studies A student's GPS to successful learning makes a valuable contribution to often problematic and pertinent South African higher education issues such as student access and success, student learning, student support, and student engagement. In this regard, the authors draw on the works of higher education theorists such as Kuh, Tinto, Marton, and Sij. The book is primarily a helpful resource for South African learners in school, students at universities, life orientation teachers, as well as parents of prospective university students. It will especially assist students to adapt to the university environment. Prof. Victor N. Teise Sol Plaatje University, Kimberley, South Africa. OECD Science, Technology and Industry Outlook 2014 OECD, 2014-11-12.
