The Girl In The Striped Pyjamas English Edition:

Redefining English for the More Able Ian Warwick, Ray Speakman, 2018-04-20 Redefining English for the More Able is a practical guide offering English teachers a range of strategies to stretch and challenge their students. Written by Ian Warwick, founder of London Gifted and Talented, and Ray Speakman, this book provides a fresh perspective on the purpose of English teaching and the benefits it can offer all students. Drawing on an array of ideas and examples from different genres of literature, the book discusses how threshold concepts can be used to frame English teaching and push the boundaries of students' learning. The chapters provide example lesson plans targeted at different age groups from Key Stages 2-5 and address different aspects of English, including short stories, poetry, film, drama, and science fiction. Warwick and Speakman examine how the requirements for teaching more able students have received more recent focus under Ofsted and offer specific examples of activities and reflective questions that can engage students more deeply in their appreciation of English. This well-researched and accessible guide will be an invaluable tool for English teachers, teaching assistants, and school leaders wishing to reflect on new ways of motivating and teaching the more able in order to develop the intellectual curiosity of all their students.

Infants and Children's Wear Review, 1928 999 Heather Dune Macadam, 2019-12-31 A PEN America Literary Award Finalist, A Goodreads Choice Awards Nominee, An Amazon Best of the Year Selection. The untold story of some of WW2's most hidden figures and the heartbreaking tragedy that unites them all. Readers of Born Survivors and A Train Near Magdeburg will devour the tragic tale of the first 999 women in Auschwitz concentration camp. This is the hauntingly resonant true story that everyone should know. On March 25, 1942, nearly a thousand young unmarried Jewish women, many of them teenagers, boarded a train in Poprad, Slovakia. Believing they were going to work in a factory for a few months, they were eager to report for government service and left their parents' homes wearing their best clothes and confidently waving good-bye. Instead, the young women were sent to Auschwitz. Only a few would survive. Now, acclaimed author Heather Dune Macadam reveals their stories, drawing on extensive interviews with survivors and consulting with historians, witnesses, and relatives of those first deportees to create an important addition to Holocaust literature and women's history. Intimate and harrowing, this careful sympathetic history illuminates an incomprehensible human tragedy. Publishers Weekly: Against the backdrop of World War II, this respectful narrative presents a compassionate and meticulous remembrance of the young women profiled throughout. Recommended for all collections. Library Journal: Staggering, profound. Macadam's book also offers insight into the passage of these women into adulthood and their children as secondhand survivors. Gail Sheehy, New York Times bestselling author of Passages and Daring My Passages: Heather Dune Macadam's 999 reinstates the girls to their rightful place in history. Foreword Reviews: An important addition to the annals of the Holocaust as well as women's history. Not everyone could handle such material, but Heather Dune Macadam is deeply qualified, insightful, and perceptive. Susan Lacy, creator of the American Masters series and filmmaker. The story of these teenage girls
