The Great Expectations

Charles Dickens

The Great Expectations:

Great Expectations Charles Dickens, 2021-05-19 My father's family name being Pirrip and my Christian name Philip my infant tongue could make of both names nothing longer or more explicit than Pip So I called myself Pip and came to be called Pip I give Pirrip as my father's family name on the authority of his tombstone and my sister Mrs Joe Gargery who married the blacksmith As I never saw my father or my mother and never saw any likeness of either of them for their days were long before the days of photographs my first fancies regarding what they were like were unreasonably derived from their tombstones Great Expectations Charles Dickens, 1995 The cold misty Kent marshes Pip an orphan is terrified when an escaped convict appears out of the gloom and threatens him and then the strange and sinister Miss Havisham sends for him What will Pip do when he discovers he has come into riches and will he ever find out who his benefactor is Great
