

The Great Gatsby

Chapter One

1. How does Nick describe himself at the beginning of the book?
He is tolerant and doesn't make snap judgments about people. People therefore tend to confide in him. He is also restless, seeking something he cannot name.
2. How does Nick describe Tom Buchanan?
Tom is aggressive, arrogant, pugnacious, and extremely wealthy.
3. Who is Jordan Baker?
A friend of Daisy.
4. What does Nick find appealing about her?
She is aloof and self-sufficient.
5. Describe the ambiguity in Nick's initial descriptions of Gatsby.
Nick says that Gatsby represented "everything for which I have an unaffected scorn," yet he also says that "There was something gorgeous about him," and that he "turned out all right."
6. How does the tone of Nick's description of Tom reveal Nick's feelings about Tom?
He describes Tom's manner as "supercilious," his body as "cruel," and his voice as gruff and husky, which "added to the impression of fractionousness he conveyed." These physical descriptions indicate the flaws that Nick sees in Tom's character.
7. How would you describe Daisy's state of mind during dinner?
Daisy seems flighty and upset.
8. What does she say and do that help reveal her inner conflicts?
She confesses to Nick that she has become cynical and overly sophisticated and implies that she is deeply unsatisfied with her marriage.
9. Nick thinks that, given the state of their marriage, Daisy should leave Tom, but it is clear to him that she has no intention of doing so. What indication is there that Tom and Daisy are closely linked despite their marital difficulties?
The most significant link between Tom and Daisy is implied after Daisy's outburst to Nick when she smirks "as if she had asserted her membership in a rather distinguished secret society to which she and Tom belonged."
10. What indications are there that the green light will have a powerful emotional significance to Gatsby?
Gatsby's gesture and his trembling help to highlight the significance of the green light.

F. Scott Fitzgerald's Odyssey Bernard R. Tanner, 2003 In this study independent scholar Tanner aims to show that F Scott Fitzgerald designed The Great Gatsby using literary methods such as burlesquing characters from mythology that he had found in James Joyce's Ulysses The focus is on commonly overlooked Biblical parodies underlying Fitzgerald's text Tanner taught high school English for 30 years in Palo Alto California The volume is not indexed Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com

Hollywood or History? Paul J. Yoder, Aaron P. Johnson, 2022-05-01 Traumagenic events episodes that have caused or are likely to cause trauma color the experiences of K 12 students and the social studies curriculum they encounter in U S schools At the same time that the global COVID 19 pandemic has heightened educators awareness of collective trauma the racial reckoning of 2020 has drawn important attention to historical and transgenerational trauma At a time when social studies educators can simply no longer ignore difficult knowledge instruction that acknowledges trauma in social studies classrooms is essential Through employing relational pedagogies and foregrounding voices that are too often silenced the lessons in Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Acknowledge Trauma in Social Studies engage students in examining the role of traumatic or traumagenic events in social studies curriculum The 20 Hollywood or History lessons are organized by themes such as political trauma and war and genocide Each lesson presents film clips instructional strategies and primary and secondary sources targeted to the identified K 12 grade levels As a collection they provide ready to teach resources that are perfect for teachers who are committed to acknowledging trauma in their social studies instruction

Writing and Learning in Cross-national Perspective David Foster, 2017-10-03 Despite the increasingly global implications of conversations about writing and learning U S composition studies has devoted little attention to cross national perspectives on student writing and its roles in wider cultural contexts Caught up in our own concerns about how U S students make the transition as writers from secondary school to postsecondary education we often overlook the fact that students around the world are undergoing the same evolution How do the students in China England France Germany Kenya or South Africa the educational systems represented in this collection write their way into the communities of their chosen disciplines How for instance do students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction cope with the demands of academic and discipline specific writing

And in what ways is U S students development as academic writers similar to or different from that of students in other countries With this collection editors David Foster and David R Russell broaden the discussion about the role of writing in various educational systems and cultures Students development as academic writers raises issues of student authorship and agency as well as larger issues of educational access institutional power relations system goals and students roles in society The contributors to this collection discuss selected writing purposes and forms characteristic of a specific national education system describe students agency as writers and identify contextual factors social economic linguistic cultural that shape institutional responses to writing development In discussions that bookend these studies of different educational structures the editors compare U S postsecondary writing practices and pedagogies with those in other national systems and suggest new perspectives for cross national study of learning writing issues important to all educational systems Given the worldwide increase in students entering higher education and the endless need for effective writing across disciplines and nations the insights offered here and the call for further studies are especially welcome and timely
