The Howling Miller:

The Howling Miller Arto Paasilinna, 2013-06-13 When Gunnar Huttunen turns up in a small village to restore its run down mill its inhabitants are wary Gunnar is big He s a bit odd And strangest of all he howls wildly at night If Gunnar is different then he must be mad the villagers decide Hounded from his home he must find a way to survive the wilds of nature and the greater savagery of civilization The Howling Miller is a dark fairytale of community conformity and our place in the world

True North B.J. Epstein, 2014-06-02 True North Literary Translation in the Nordic Countries is the first book to focus solely on literary translation from to and between the Nordic tongues The book is divided into three main sections These are novels children s literature and other genres encompassing drama crime fiction sagas cookbooks and music although naturally there are connections and overlapping themes between the sections Halld r Laxness Virginia Woolf Selma Lagerl f Astrid Lindgren Mark Twain Henrik Ibsen Henning Mankell Janis Joplin and Jamie Oliver are just some of the authors analysed Topics examined include particular translatorial challenges translating for specific audiences or influencing audiences through translation re translation the functions of translated texts the ways in which translation can change a genre the creation of identity through translation and more As is clear from this list many of the theories proposed and findings discussed here are also relevant to the wider field of translation studies as well as to literary studies more generally It is time for the world s growing Nordicmania to influence the field of translation studies and for translation to take its place as a relevant and essential issue in our understanding of the Northern countries The varied chapters in this book will contribute to these stimulating and critical conversations

Harry E. Burke and John M. Miller, Pioneers in Western Forest Entomology Boyd E. Wickman, 2005 This history was compiled from the memoirs diaries and other personal documents of the two forest entomologists in charge of the first forest insect laboratories on the west coast It traces the lives of the two pioneers from 1902 to 1952 as they pursued their careers in the USDA Bureau of Entomology Division of Forest Insect Investigations Cooperative bark beetle control projects with the USDA Forest Service Park Service and private timber owners guided much of their early activities Later when the laboratories were located on university campuses cooperative research was undertaken with Forest Service Research Stations The focus shifted to more basic research and particularly studies on the silvicultural management of bark beetle populations
