By Herman Heinfetter ... Sixth edition ,1864* The Gift Ana Lucia Araujo, 2023-11-16 The Gift explores how objects of prestige contributed to cross cultural exchanges between Africans and Europeans during the Atlantic slave trade An eighteenth century silver ceremonial sword commissioned in the port of La Rochelle by French traders was offered as a gift to an African commercial agent in the port of Cabinda Kingdom of Ngoyo in twenty first century Angola Slave traders carried this object from Cabinda to Abomey the capital of the Kingdom of Dahomey in twenty first century's Republic of Benin from where French officers looted the item in the late nineteenth century Drawing on a rich set of sources in French English and Portuguese as well as artifacts housed in museums across Europe and the Americas Ana Lucia Araujo illuminates how luxury objects impacted European African relations and how these economic cultural and social interactions paved the way for the European conquest and colonization of West Africa and West Central Africa The Gift in Sixteenth-century France Natalie Zemon Davis, 2000 Must a gift be given freely How can we tell a gift from a bribe Are gifts always a part of human relations or do they lose their power and importance once the market takes hold and puts a price on every exchange These questions are central to our sense of social relations past and present and they are at the heart of this book by one of our most interesting and renowned historians In a wide ranging look at gift giving in early modern France Natalie Zemon Davis reveals the ways that gift exchange is crucial to understanding alliance and conflict in family life economic relations politics and religion Moving from the king's bounty to the beggar's alms her book explores the modes and meanings of gift giving in every corner of sixteenth century French society In doing so it arrives at a new way of considering gifts what Davis calls the gift register as a permanent feature of social relations over time Gift giving with its own justifications and forms in different periods can create amity or lead to quarrels and trouble It mixes the voluntary and the obligatory with interested bribery at one extreme and inspired gratuitousness at the other Examining gifts both ethnographically through archives letters and other texts and culturally through literary ethical and religious sources Davis shows how coercive features in family life and politics rather than competition from the market disrupted the gift system This intriguing book suggests that examining the significance of gifts can not only help us to understand social relations in the past but teach us to deal graciously with each other in the present

Koskinen,2022-09-23 This volume presents new essays on the theory and practice of recognition In order to retain its overall plausibility as a critical social theory contemporary recognition theory needs to be able to successfully combine theory with real life perspectives in both contemporary and historical contexts Contemporary recognition theory has developed into an established and active multidisciplinary research programme The chapters in this volume have two main purposes First they engage in theoretical development of the contemporary theories of recognition They explore the conceptual histories and the environments of recognition as well as the connection between recognition and authenticity emancipation and social ontology Second they connect the theoretical insights of contemporary recognition with analyses of contemporary and historical social practices These contributions explore themes such as populism and polarization models of harmful invisibilization and social ignorance the problem of evil and suffering and social justice phenomena such as the MeToo movement The Theory and Practice of Recognition will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in social and political philosophy social ontology political theory and sociology

God and the Gift Risto Saarinen,2005 The observation that contemporary theological and philosophical discussions about ecumenism center on the issues of reception and the gift but neglect the basic act of giving is the starting point of God and the Gift Risto Saarinen asks if we can approach these discussions from the perspective of giver In God and the Gift Saarinen demonstrates that we do have theological resources that enable us to outline a theology of giving He deals with basic philosophical and theological resources and outlines some specific modes of giving in particular forgiveness sacrifice and thanksgiving and living by example God and the Gift outlines a brief theology of giving by employing both classical theology and contemporary discussions It also points out the ecumenical relevance of the theology of giving For those who are more interested in particular theological and philosophical topics some new interpretations are offered for further discussion Among these are an interpretation of forgiveness as negative giving a discussion on the relationship between sacrifice and divine non violence and a new proposal to conceptualize various types of Christian imitation These aims are connected with the overall claim that instead of looking at reception and the gift itself we should focus on giving Saarinen illustrates this shift of perspective with observations and examples Though not discussed exhaustively they serve as preliminary signposts showing us the way to proceed Chapters are Introduction Giving and Receiving The Gift Contemporary Approaches New Testament and Martin Luther Forgiveness and Negative Giving Sacrifice and Thanksgiving Giving an Example Being Gifted and Ecumenical Sharing Risto Saarinen ThD PhD is professor of ecumenical theology at the University of Helsinki and a member of the Finnish Academy of Science and Letters He served as research professor at the Centre d Etudes Oecumeniques in Strasbourg from 1994 to 1999

Poetics and the Gift Adam R. Rosenthal, 2022 Using a broad comparative approach this study shows how the figure of the gift structures poetic discourse and does so from the age of Homer up through twenty first century conceptual poetics Beginning from a new interpretation of Derrida s writings on the gift Adam R Rosenthal argues that this ambivalent figure names at one and the same time poetry s most extreme aneconomic privilege and the point of its closest contact with the interested exchange of the market In this way the gift conducts material relays of patronage and theories of poetic origination in genius inspiration and imagination Poetics and the Gift capitalizes on this double function in order to read material historical accounts of poetry alongside philosophical and poetic ones By way of his original reading of Derrida s work in Given Time and Economimesis Rosenthal offers a novel account of gift poetics and a new understanding of what makes poetry poetry
