A photograph of three young people standing in a field of fallen autumn leaves. The person on the left is a woman with dark hair, wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and a grey skirt, holding a black smartphone up to her face. The person in the center is a man with dark hair, wearing a grey long-sleeved shirt and brown pants, looking upwards with a slight smile. The person on the right is a woman with dark hair, wearing a black long-sleeved shirt and a light-colored skirt, holding a black smartphone up to her face. The background is a soft-focus field of yellow and orange autumn leaves under a bright sky.

Dinosaur Lake III:Infestation Kathryn Meyer Griffith, Chief Park Ranger Henry Shore has dealt with and fought real live dinosaurs at his beloved Crater Lake National Park for over six years With the help of his rangers a few brave FBI friends and army soldiers he d been victorious over a prehistoric lake creature and years later some particularly fiendish and clever specimens of the flying variety He and his newspaper publisher wife Ann thought their park was finally rid of the monsters and they could reclaim their tranquil life in a place they cherished Not so For suddenly across the park new and even more malevolent mutant species of dinosaur begin to appear and create havoc attacking the park's visitors and threatening its peace. And this time the primeval scourge isn't confined to just their park. The creatures have moved into the nearby towns across the western United States and up into Canada. They are so much more aggressive, smarter, and hungrier than any that have come before, and the infestation is spreading further and faster than Henry and Ann can even imagine. This time there's no easy way to defeat the dinosaurs. There's too many of them, and they're too devious. This time it's full-out war, and the victor will someday claim Earth.
