

Effective Writing and Correspondence: The Army Writing Style

1-38. Standards for Army writing

a. Effective Army writing is understood by the reader in a single rapid reading and is clear, concise, and well-organized in accordance with PL 111-274.

b. Two essential requirements include putting the main point at the beginning of the correspondence (bottom line up front) and using the active voice (for example, "The time you spent in training last year entitles you to jump pay.").

c. Active voice writing—

(1) Emphasizes the actor of the sentence.

(2) Shows who or what does the action in the sentence and puts the actor before the verb.

(3) Creates shorter sentences. By eliminating passive voice, you reduce the number of words in a sentence.

(a) Passive voice: The test was passed by SGT Jones (seven words).

(b) Active voice: SGT Jones passed the test (five words).

d. Passive voice is easy to recognize. A passive construction occurs when the object of an action becomes the subject of the sentence. A verb in the passive voice uses any form of the verb "to be" (for example, am, is, are, was, were, be, being, and been), plus a past participle of the verb, which usually ends in "en" or "ed" (for example, were completed, as requested). Additionally, in passive voice the subject receives the action instead of taking the action.

1-39. Constructing military correspondence

a. General techniques. Focus on the main point when constructing basic military correspondence. Use of active voice is the basic style of Army writing.

b. Specific techniques. Incorporate these plain language techniques to improve effectiveness:

(1) Use short words.

(2) Keep sentences short. The average length of a sentence should be about 15 words.

(3) Write paragraphs that, with few exceptions, are no more than 10 lines.

(4) Avoid jargon.

(5) Use correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation.

(6) Use "I," "you," and "we" as subjects of sentences instead of this office, this headquarters, this command, all individuals, and so forth.

(7) Write one-page letters and memorandums for most correspondence. Use enclosures for additional information.

(8) Avoid sentences that begin with "It is," "There is," or "There are."

(9) Place one space between the punctuation and the text that immediately follows it for colons and periods. For commas and semicolons, place one space between the punctuation and the text that immediately follows it.

(10) Space ¼" to the right of the parenthesis when numbering subparagraphs.

Broken Reflection Ravyn Brown, 2025-06-03 No one has ever thought twice about Sander Fox including himself And sometimes he wonders if it should have stayed that way After the shocking desecration of father's grave Sander finds himself determined to capture the culprit Frustratingly his investigation is cut short when he winds up behind bars himself But these are not the bars of his county jail these are the pristine white coated cells of an inter dimensional prison Sander is thrust into a world of secrets and lies and they all seem to lead back to his father's murder With the help of his newfound friends and fellow inmates he starts to discover how deeply his family is interwoven in this world and just how many enemies his father left behind some within the very walls of the prison No one has ever escaped inter dimensional prison before so if Sander is going to outrun his father's past he is going to have to trust the right friends
