The Good Life Elsewhere:

The Good Life Elsewhere Vladimir Lorchenkov, 2014-02-02 A group of adventurous villagers attempt to escape Moldova for Italy in this outstanding darkly hilarious novel of poverty and hope in Eastern Europe The Wall Street Journal The Moldovan village of Larga is depressed in more ways than one and its remaining citizens long for a better life Meanwhile just over the border in Italy the economy is booming But when a group of Largans decide to take fate into their own hands and attempt to cross the border their efforts result in a tragicomic romp of post Soviet shenanigans In this simultaneously hilarious and heartbreaking tale an Orthodox priest is deserted by his wife for an art dealing atheist a mechanic redesigns his tractor for travel by air and sea thousands of villagers take to the road on a modern day religious crusade to make it to the promised land of Italy meanwhile politicians remain politicians Publishers Weekly A touching and hilarious chronicle about the age old European yearning for one more chance A chance that may never come Gary Shteyngart The Good Life

Charles Siegel, 2016-09-11 The main tradition of classical philosophy had a clear idea of the good life based on human flourishing Modern philosophers rejected this tradition because they believed in the logical principle that we cannot derive ought statements from is statements which makes it impossible to base ethics on human nature This book shows that this logical principle is false You can derive ought statements from teleological is statements statements about function goal or purpose Philosophers rejected classical ethics not because of a logical problem but because they rejected Aristotle's teleological view of nature In the seventeenth century philosophers accepted the new physics which explained nature on the basis of mechanical causes not of goals If nature is not teleological then it is impossible to base ethics on human nature But we still think teleologically about human nature when we base our idea of health on the proper functioning of our basic physical capabilities Likewise by basing the idea of arete on the proper functioning of all our capabilities we can develop a version of classical ethics that is still convincing after the modern age Practising the Good Life Inês David, João

Sardinha, Kate Torkington, 2015-06-18 This edited collection adds to the growing body of research on lifestyle migration with empirically grounded explorations focusing on a wide range of practices involved in living the good life The volume brings together a variety of socio geographical contexts from Swedish lifestyle movers in Malta retired Britons and Germans in Spain and seekers of the rural idyll in the Iberian Peninsula to expats in Nepal North Americans in Ecuador and utopian lifestyle migrants in Patagonia t

Demography, State and Society Enda Delaney, 2000-01-01 Between the foundation of the new Irish state in 1921 22 and the early 1970s approximately one and a half million people left independent Ireland the vast majority travelling to Britain Demography State and Society is the first comprehensive analysis of the twentieth century Irish exodus to Britain Meticulously researched using an exhaustive range of previously unused source materials this book provides a detailed examination of the many ways in which migration shaped twentieth century Irish society The book focuses on a number of vital themes many of them rarely mentioned by previous studies state policy in Ireland official responses in Britain gender dimensions individual migrant experience patterns of settlement in Britain and the crucial phenomenon of return migration A major study of Irish migration this book also offers much that will be of interest to scholars students and general readers in the wider fields of modern British and Irish history Religious Minorities in Non-Secular Middle Eastern and North African States Mark Tessler, 2019-07-19 This book describes and compares the circumstances and lived experiences of religious minorities in Tunisia Morocco and Israel in the 1970s countries where the identity and mission of the state are strongly and explicitly tied to the religion of the majority The politics and identity of Jews in Tunisia and Morocco and Arabs in Israel are therefore shaped to a substantial degree by their status as religious minorities in non secular states This collection based on in depth fieldwork carried out during an important moment in the history of each community and of the region considers the nature and implications of each group s response to its circumstances It focuses on both the community and individual levels of analysis and draws in part on original public opinion surveys It also compares the three communities in order to offer generalizable insights about ways the identity political culture and institutional character of a minority group are shaped by the broader political environment in which it resides The project will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of Middle Eastern and North African studies Judaic studies Islamic Studies minority group politics and international relations and the Arab Israeli conflict Organizational Ethics and the Good Life Edwin Hartman, 1996 In this book Edwin Hartman argues that the real world of experience rather than abstract theory is the source of principles for business ethics Hartman explains how ethical principles derive from what employees learn in good organizations and argues that an ethically good company is one that creates the good life for those who work in it An ethical organization has a good corporate culture which not only serves the interests of the participants but helps determine what those interests are and sees to it that they are compatible with both autonomy and good corporate citizenship In this way the individual develops a conception of the good life what is inappropriate to the moral person The influences on Hartmans thought include the Aristotelian tradition of refined common sense contemporary pragmatism recent work concerning collective action problems and social contract theory Education and the Good Life Bertrand Russell, 1926 Bias, Belief, and Conviction in an Age of Fake Facts Anke Finger, Manuela Wagner, 2022-09-29 In this book authors engage in an interdisciplinary discourse of theory and practice on the concept of personal conviction addressing the variety of grey zones that mark the concept Bias Belief and Conviction in an Age of Fake Facts discusses where our convictions come from and whether we are aware of them why they compel us to certain actions and whether we can change our convictions when presented with opposing evidence which prove our personal convictions wrong Scholars from philosophy psychology comparative literature media studies applied linguistics intercultural communication and education shed light on the topic of personal conviction crossing disciplinary boundaries and asking questions not only of importance to scholars but also related to the role and possible impact of conviction in the public sphere education and in political and cultural discourse By taking a critical look at personal conviction as an element of inquiry within the humanities and social sciences this book will contribute substantially to the study of conviction as an aspect of the self we all carry within us and are called upon to examine It will be of particular interest to scholars in communication and journalism studies media studies philosophy and psychology The Open Access version of this book has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/oa-edit/10.4324/9781003187936/bias-belief-conviction-age-fake-facts-anke-finger-manuela-wagner>

Plato on Pleasure and the Good Life Daniel Russell, 2005-09-15 Daniel Russell examines Plato's subtle and insightful analysis of pleasure and explores its intimate connections with his discussions of value and human psychology Russell offers a fresh perspective on how good things bear on happiness in Plato's ethics and shows that for Plato pleasure cannot determine happiness because pleasure lacks a direction of its own Plato presents wisdom as a skill of living that determines happiness by directing one's life as a whole bringing about goodness in all areas of one's life as a skill brings about order in its materials The materials of the skill of living are in the first instance not things like money or health but one's attitudes emotions and desires where things like money and health are concerned Plato recognizes that these materials of the psyche are inchoate ethically speaking and in need of direction from wisdom Among them is pleasure which Plato treats not as a sensation but as an attitude with which one ascribes value to its object However Plato also views pleasure once shaped and directed by wisdom as a crucial part of a virtuous character as a whole Consequently Plato rejects all forms of hedonism which allows happiness to be determined by a part of the psyche that does not direct one's life but is among the materials to be directed At the same time Plato is also able to hold both that virtue is sufficient for happiness and that pleasure is necessary for happiness not as an addition to one's virtue but as a constituent of one's whole virtuous character itself Plato therefore offers an illuminating role for pleasure in ethics and psychology one to which we may be unaccustomed pleasure emerges not as a sensation or even a mode of activity but as an attitude one of the ways in which we construe our world and as such a central part of every character

Modern European Borders in Fiction Andrew Hammond, 2025-09-18 There are few features of the contemporary world more significant than national and regional borders In modern Europe the practices of human division have defined the continent from the early years of the Cold War to the present barriers of Fortress Europe whose exposure of irregular migrants to trafficking discrimination and deportation is rarely absent from the daily news Modern European Borders in Fiction offers a comprehensive study of literary responses to the topic Through reference to over 600 novels and short stories Andrew Hammond analyses the wide ranging engagement of post 1945 novelists with the ideologies processes and effects of territorialisation as well as the related issues of military conflict migration populism nationalism and regionalism Among the topics under study are the ideological divisions of the Cold War the closed societies of totalitarian communism the labour migrations of the 1950s and 1960s the tightening of border controls from the 1970s the twenty first century war on migration

the official restrictions on borderland communities the conflicts in Bosnia Georgia and Ukraine and the patterns of social segregation that have marked the continent from the Second World War to the present Drawing on theoretical work in the social sciences and the humanities this is a ground breaking contribution to European literary studies establishing the importance of continental border writing and opening up fresh avenues for decolonised teaching and research

Mighty Things Halee Gray Scott,2014-02-25 The main challenges and strategies of success for CHRISTIAN WOMEN LEADERS Are you showing up for your own life Or are you watching it slowly drain away each moment emptied of its potential At age twenty Halee Gray Scott was doing things her way when God challenged her with these two questions Confronted with the brevity of human life she determined to start living with purpose and passion and help others do the same For the last seven years Halee has been studying the lives of female Christian leaders to determine what keeps them from fully flourishing as people of influence It s not that Christian women cannot or do not want to lead it s that their way is fraught with roadblocks In Dare Mighty Things Halee unpacks the results of her research tackling the top challenges for Christian women including What prevents us from seeing ourselves as leaders How to discern what we are really truly meant to do How to navigate between our roles as women and leaders How the myth that only exceptional Christian women can lead hurts all Christian women Dare Mighty Things is a guidebook for women navigating the difficult waters of leadership Packed with helpful advice and strategies for success it will challenge you to claim your God given potential and lead with confidence poise and grace Understanding the Dynamics of Global Inequality Alexander Lenger,Florian

Schumacher,2014-12-03 Despite the fact that the globalization process tends to reinforce existing inequality structures and generate new areas of inequality on multiple levels systematic analyses on this very important field remain scarce Hence this book approaches the complex question of inequality not only from different regional perspectives covering Africa Asia Europe Latin and Northern America but also from different disciplinary perspectives namely cultural anthropology economics ethnology geography international relations sociology and political sciences The contributions are subdivided into three essential fields of research Part I analyzes the socio economic dimension of global exclusion highlighting in particular the impacts of internationalization and globalization processes on national social structures against the background of theoretical concepts of social inequality Part II addresses the political dimension of global inequalities Since the decline of the Soviet Union new regional powers like Brazil China India and South Africa have emerged creating power shifts in international relations that are the primary focus of the second part Lastly Part III examines the structural and transnational dimension of inequality patterns which can be concretized in the rise of globalized national elites and the emergence of multinational networks that transcend the geographical and imaginative borders of nation states

Emotional Transitions in Contemporary Afrodiasporic Women's Writing Ángela Suárez-Rodríguez, 2023-12-15 This book is an in depth study of the category stranger as represented in four contemporary Afrodiasporic novels of female authorship Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's Americanah Sefi Atta's A Bit of Difference NoViolet Bulawayo's We Need New Names and Imbolo Mbue's Behold the Dreamers Examined from an interdisciplinary perspective that brings together different approaches to the figure of the stranger and Affect Theory the plurality of experiences of estrangement disorientation and unbelonging portrayed in these texts allows expansion upon Sara Ahmed's investigation of stranger fetishism in her title Strange Encounters Embodied Others in Post coloniality 2000 and in so doing contributes to the recent call for a more nuanced understanding of the idea of stranger In particular the critical and comparative study of the different migration experiences of the protagonists reveals that within the framework of the contemporary African diaspora to the West strange-ness is a situated embodied and emotional condition that depends on the politics of location and of identity from which it emerges This book will particularly appeal to scholars and students in the fields of Postcolonial Studies African Diaspora Studies and Black Women's Literature and will also be suitable for students at graduate and advanced undergraduate levels in English Studies

Research Handbook on Irregular Migration Ilse van Liempt, Joris Schapendonk, Amalia Campos-Delgado, 2023-03-02 Moving away from state categorizations on irregular migration this Research Handbook critically examines processes and dynamics that generate and reproduce irregularity and discusses who may count as an irregular migrant

The Perfect Punter Dave Farrar, 2012-02-16 Like millions of other sports mad gamblers around the world Dave Farrar loved taking on the bookies But when the girl that he loved walked out on him without explaining why it all went wrong and he embarked on an ill disciplined six month losing streak that made him decide that he was done with punting forever As he started to get over the fact that the girl wasn't coming back he resolved not to give up without a fight But this time he was going to do it properly making sure that he did enough research to take on the bookmakers and win In The Perfect Punter Farrar delves into the detail of every sporting event he'd lost money on in that bad run to make sure that whenever he placed a bet in the future he would know more about it than anyone else He travels around the world following the sporting calendar meeting experts who help him get to the bottom of each event so he can try to win back every penny that he lost From snooker at the Crucible and racing at Cheltenham to tennis at Roland Garros golf's Ryder Cup and the US Superbowl The Perfect Punter is the engrossing story of one man's journey to overcome the odds

Hope and Uncertainty in Contemporary African Migration Nauja Kleist,Dorte Thorsen,2016-11-25 This volume examines the relationship between hope mobility and immobility in African migration Through case studies set within and beyond the continent it demonstrates that hope offers a unique prism for analyzing the social imaginaries and aspirations which underpin migration in situations of uncertainty deepening inequality and delimited access to global circuits of legal mobility The volume takes departure in a mobility paradox that characterizes contemporary migration Whereas people all over the world are exposed to widening sets of meaning of the good life elsewhere an increasing number of people in the Global South have little or no access to authorized modes of international migration This book examines how African migrants respond to this situation Focusing on hope it explores migrants temporal and spatial horizons of expectation and possibility and how these horizons link to mobility practices Such analysis is pertinent as precarious life conditions and increasingly restrictive regimes of mobility characterize the lives of many Africans while migration continues to constitute important livelihood strategies and to be seen as pathways of improvement Whereas involuntary immobility is one consequence another is the emergence and consolidation of new destinations emerging in the Global South The volume examines this development through empirically grounded and theoretically rich case studies in migrants countries of origin zones of transit and in new and established destinations in Europe North America the Middle East Latin America and China It thereby offers an original perspective on linkages between migration hope and immobility ranging from migration aspirations to return The Cambridge Companion to the Stoics Brad Inwood,2003-05-05 This unique volume offers an odyssey through the ideas of the Stoics in three particular ways first through the historical trajectory of the school itself and its influence second through the recovery of the history of Stoic thought third through the ongoing confrontation with Stoicism showing how it refines philosophical traditions challenges the imagination and ultimately defines the kind of life one chooses to lead A distinguished roster of specialists have written an authoritative guide to the entire philosophical tradition The first two chapters chart the history of the school in the ancient world and are followed by chapters on the core themes of the Stoic system epistemology logic natural philosophy theology determinism and metaphysics There are two chapters on what might be thought of as the heart and soul of the Stoics system ethics
