The Routledge Handbook of Developments in Digital Journalism Studies Scott Eldridge II, Bob Franklin, 2018-09-03

The Routledge Handbook of Developments in Digital Journalism Studies offers a unique and authoritative collection of essays that report on and address the significant issues and focal debates shaping the innovative field of digital journalism studies In the short time this field has grown aspects of journalism have moved from the digital niche to the digital mainstay and digital innovations have been normalized into everyday journalistic practice These cycles of disruption and normalization support this book's central claim that we are witnessing the emergence of digital journalism studies as a discrete academic field Essays bring together the research and reflections of internationally distinguished academics journalists teachers and researchers to help make sense of a reconceptualized journalism and its effects on journalism's products processes resources and the relationship between journalists and their audiences The handbook also discusses the complexities and challenges in studying digital journalism and shines light on previously unexplored areas of inquiry such as aspects of digital resistance protest and minority voices The Routledge Handbook of Developments in Digital Journalism Studies is a carefully curated overview of the range of diverse but interrelated original research that is helping to define this emerging discipline It will be of particular interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students studying digital online computational and multimedia journalism

The Fundamentals of Journalism Krishna Kumar Singh, 2017-07

The book that you now have before you is a product of the conviction that we should care about journalism and its study We should care about journalism because it's central to democracy citizenship and everyday life and we should care about journalism studies because it helps us understand this key social institution We are not alone in holding this conviction a Journalism study is one of the fastest growing areas within the larger discipline of communication research and media studies As indicated by a serious though a not altogether coherent body of academic literature and ongoing scholarly work the study of journalism has matured to become an academic field of its own right We felt that the arrival of journalism studies ought to be both celebrated and solidified and to honor this ambition The Handbook of Journalism Studies was conceived as a gathering place for the varied lasting and emerging preoccupations of scholars in the field This handbook therefore bears witness to the rapid and exciting developments in this important area of research as well as its complexity richness and promise in terms of theory and research We hope the book can boost the intellectual foundations of journalism studies providing the reader with an overview of journalism as a dynamic field of study across its diverse epistemological theoretical and methodological traditions Fundamentals of Journalism set out to comprehensively chart the field and define the agenda for future in an international context It is our hope that the book when taken as a whole provides a sense of journalism on a global scale covering not just the dominant Indian traditions but also looking beyond this context to Africa Latin America Continental Europe and Asia Although we have sought to make journalism studies a broad church in including 15 different chapters each covering an impressive breadth of subject matter we do not claim to survey every key area and tradition of scholarship in journalism studies We had to make tough choices about what we were able to include and regrettably what to leave out Needless to say it would be impossible to do complete justice to a rich dynamic and ever emerging field of research in only one volume however bulky and we are reassured that journalism studies continue to be a productive scholarly community where the debates that echo in this book and those we have been unable to reflect continue with unabated fervour What we do hope is that Fundamentals of Journalism will be a useful fundamental resource for anyone trying to get a sense of an academic field of inquiry and its past present and future The book is structured around a critical engagement with key theoretical and empirical traditions fields of inquiry and scholarly detailed in journalism laid out by the foremost experts in each area Beginning with four introductory chapters which outline more general issues in the field the organization of the book reflects the aim of covering the broad contours of journalism studies The volume contains four thematic sections covering scholarship on news production and organizations news content journalism and society and journalism in a global context Within these four sections each chapter provides a systematic and accessible overview of the state of scholarship and defines key problems but also advances theory building and problem solving and identifies areas for further research Worlds of Journalism Thomas Hanitzsch,Folker Hanusch,Jyotika Ramaprasad,Arnold S. de

Beer,2019-06-18 How do journalists around the world view their roles and responsibilities in society Based on a landmark study that has collected data from more than 27 500 journalists in 67 countries Worlds of Journalism offers a groundbreaking analysis of the different ways journalists perceive their duties their relationship to society and government and the nature and meaning of their work Challenging assumptions of a universal definition or concept of journalism the book maps a world populated by a rich diversity of journalistic cultures Organized around a series of key questions on topics such as editorial autonomy journalistic ethics trust in social institutions and changes in the profession it details how the practice of journalism differs across the world in a range of political social and economic contexts The book covers how journalism as an institution is created and re created by journalists and how they experience their profession in very different ways even as they retain a commitment to some basic widely shared professional norms and practices It concludes with a global classification of journalistic cultures that reflects the breadth of worldviews and orientations found in disparate countries and regions Worlds of Journalism offers an ambitious comparative global understanding of the state of journalism in a time when it is confronting a series of economic and political threats      A Handbook of Journalism V. Eshwar Anand, K. Jayanthi, 2018-04-15 Written by stalwarts this handbook covers a gamut of the discipline of Journalism and examines the most recent trends issues processes and challenges in the field      Fixing Stories Noah Amir Arjomand, 2022-02-17 News fixers are translators and guides who assist foreign journalists Sometimes key contributors to bold original reporting and other times key facilitators of homogeneity and groupthink in the news media they play the difficult but powerful role of broker between worlds shaping the creation of knowledge from behind the scenes In Fixing Stories Noah Amir Arjomand reflects on the nature of news production and cross cultural mediation Based on human stories drawn from three years of field research in Turkey this book unfolds as a series of narratives of fixers career trajectories during a period when the international media spotlight shone on Turkey and Syria From the Syrian Civil War Gezi Park protest movement rise of authoritarianism in Turkey and of ISIS in Syria to the rekindling of conflict in both countries Kurdish regions and Turkey's 2016 coup attempt Arjomand brings to light vivid personal accounts and insider perspectives on world shaking events alongside analysis of the role fixers have played in bringing news of Turkey and Syria to international audiences      The Image of Africa in Ghana's Press: The Influence of Global News Organisations Michael Serwornoo, 2021-01-05 The Image of Africa in Ghana's Press is of high conceptual theoretical and methodological quality It gives a good overview of the literature and the state of the art in the fields tackled by the author The originality of the book lies especially in its methodological approach Prof Guido Keel Director of the Institute of Applied Media Studies Zurich University of Applied Sciences The Image of Africa in Ghana's Press is a comprehensive and highly analytical study of the impact of foreign news organisations on the creation of an image of Africa in its own press Identifying a problematic focus on the Western media in previous studies of the African media image Serwornoo uses the Ghanaian press as a case study to explore the effects of centuries of Afro pessimistic discourse in the foreign press on the continent's self description This study brings together a number of theoretical approaches including newsworthiness intermedia agenda setting postcolonial theory and the hierarchy of influences to question the processes underpinning the creation of media content It is particularly innovative in its application of the methodological frameworks of ethnographic content analysis and ethnographic interview techniques to unveil the perspectives of journalists and editors The Image of Africa in Ghana's Press presents a vital contribution of the highest academic standard to the growing literature surrounding Afro pessimism and postcolonial studies It will be of great value to scientists in the field of journalism studies as well as researchers interested in the merging of journalism research postcolonial studies and ethnography      The Shaping of News Julie Firmstone, 2023-09-23 This book provides readers with the understanding required to analyse the range of key factors that shape the production of news and to assess their implications for the role of news and journalism in democracy It brings existing research together under the umbrella of a central organising framework to explore how news and its production is shaped by a multiplicity of factors including the norms values role perceptions and ethics associated with journalism as a profession the role of news sources the changing character and significance of news audiences the aims and objectives of news organisations and the political economic and social contexts within which news is produced Exploring these factors in depth using examples and considering the changing conditions of news production the chapters chart significant changes challenges and responses to provide the essential background for understanding the consequences of current transformations for the democratic qualities of news Gatekeeping in Transition Timothy Vos, François

Heinderyckx, 2015-06-08 Much of what journalism scholars thought they knew about gatekeeping about how it is that news turns out the way it does has been called into question by the recent seismic economic and technological shifts in journalism These shifts come with new kinds of gatekeepers new routines of news production new types of news organizations new means for shaping the news and new channels of news distribution Given these changing realities some might ask does gatekeeping still matter In this internationally minded anthology of new gatekeeping research contributors attempt to answer that question Gatekeeping in Transition examines the role of gatekeeping in the twenty first century from organizational institutional and social perspectives across digital and traditional media and argues for its place in contemporary scholarship about news and journalism Comparing Journalistic Cultures Folker Hanusch, 2020-05-21

This book offers an analysis of journalists professional views against a variety of political economic social cultural and linguistic contexts Based on data gathered for the Worlds of Journalism Study which conducted surveys with more than 27 000 journalists in 67 countries the authors explore aspects such as linguistic and religious influences on journalists identities journalists views of development journalism epistemic issues as well as the relationship between journalism and democracy Further the book provides a history of the evolution of the Worlds of Journalism Study as well as the challenges of conducting such comparative work across a wide range of contexts A critical review by renowned comparative studies scholar Jay Blumler offers food for thought for future endeavours This unprecedented collaborative effort will be essential reading for scholars and students of journalism who are interested in comparative approaches to journalism studies and who want to explore the wide variety of journalism cultures that exist around the globe It was originally published as a special issue of Journalism Studies News Values from an Audience Perspective Martina Temmerman, Jelle Mast, 2020-12-11 This book focuses on journalistic news values from an audience perspective The audience influences what is deemed newsworthy by journalists not only because journalists tell their stories with a specific audience in mind but increasingly because the interaction of the audience with the news can be measured extensively in digital journalism and because members of the audience have a say in which stories will be told The first section considers how thinking about news values has evolved over the last fifty years and puts news values in a broader perspective by looking at news consumers preferences in different countries worldwide The second section analyses audience response explaining how audience appreciation and clicking behaviour informs headline choices and is measured by algorithms Section three explores how audiences contribute to the creation of news content and discusses mainstream media's practice of recycling audience contributions on their own social media channels

Political Communication Carsten Reinemann, 2014-07-28 Against the background of an enormous expansion and diversification of both political communication itself and scientific research into its structures, processes and effects, this volume gives an overview of some of the key theories and findings accumulated by political communication research over the last decades. In order to do so, the volume provides readers with review articles by renowned international authors on various aspects of I the normative, regulatory and conceptual foundations of political communication; II different situations of political communication, e.g. elections, referendums, social movements, media hypes, crisis and war; III the activities of and part played by political actors; IV mass media and journalism; V characteristics and typical features of media messages; VI the role played by citizens as well as; VII various kinds of effects on citizens. Each section includes several chapters that address specific issues and research problems in the form of comprehensive overviews, articles.

The Routledge Companion to British Media History Martin Conboy, John Steel, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides a comprehensive exploration of how different media have evolved within social, regional and national contexts. The 50 chapters in this volume, written by an outstanding team of internationally respected scholars, bring together current debates and issues within media history in this era of rapid change and also provide students and researchers with an essential collection of comparable media histories. The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides an essential guide to key ideas, issues, concepts and debates in the field. Mediating Cultural Diversity in a Globalised Public Space I. Rigoni, E. Saitta, 2012-11-13 Through enhancing reflection on the treatment of cultural diversity in contemporary Western societies, this collection aims to move the debate beyond the opposition between ethnicity and citizenship and demonstrate ways to achieve equality in multicultural and globalised societies.

Doing News Framing Analysis II Paul D'Angelo, 2018-05-11 This volume presents original big picture perspectives on news framing. Each chapter in this volume will feature an individual or team of framing analysts who take a reflective look at their own empirical work. The editors' goals are to identify the influences that determine the use of different theoretical and methodological approaches and to provide interpretive guides to news framing scholars regarding what news frames are, how they can be observed in news texts and how framing effects are uncovered and substantiated in cultural group and individual sites. Doing News Framing Analysis II will continue the work of its predecessor by giving talented framing scholars the space to write about their work and bring readers closer to the framing research project.
