An Arsonist's Guide to Writers' Homes in New England Brock Clarke, 2008-09-02 Funny profound a seductive book with a payoff on every page People A lot of remarkable things have happened in the life of Sam Pulsifer the hapless hero of this incendiary novel beginning with the ten years he spent in prison for accidentally burning down Emily Dickinson's house and unwittingly killing two people emerging at age twenty eight he creates a new life and identity as a husband and father But when the homes of other famous New England writers suddenly go up in smoke he must prove his innocence by uncovering the identity of this literary minded arsonist In the league of such contemporary classics as A Confederacy of Dunces and The World According to Garp An Arsonist's Guide to Writers' Homes in New England is an utterly original story about truth and honesty life and the imagination

Exley Brock Clarke, 2011-09-01 For young Miller Le Ray life has become a search A search for his dad who may or may not have joined the army and gone to Iraq A search for a notorious and unfortunately deceased writer Frederick Exley author of the fictional memoir A Fan's Notes who may hold the key to bringing Miller's father back But most of all this is a search for truth As Miller says Sometimes you have to tell the truth about some of the stuff you've done so that people will believe you when you tell them the truth about other stuff you haven't done In Exley as in his previous bestselling novel An Arsonist's Guide to Writers Homes in New England Brock Clarke takes his reader into a world that is both familiar and disorienting thought provoking and thoroughly entertaining Told by Miller and Dr Pahnee both unreliable narrators it becomes an exploration of the difference between what we believe to be real and what is in fact real

The Author's Effects Nicola J. Watson, 2020-01-09 The Author's Effects On the Writer's House Museum is the first book to describe how the writer's house museum came into being as a widespread cultural phenomenon across Britain Europe and North America Exploring the ways that authorship has been mythologised through the conventions of the writer's house museum The Author's Effects anatomises the how and why of the emergence establishment and endurance of popular notions of authorship in relation to creativity It traces how and why the writer's bodily remains possessions and spaces came to be treasured in the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries as a prelude to the appearance of formal writer's house museums It ransacks more than 100 museums and archives to tell the stories of celebrated and paradigmatic relics Burns skull Keats hair Petrarch's cat Poe's raven Brontë's bonnet Dickinson's dress Shakespeare's chair Austen's desk Woolf's spectacles Hawthorne's window Freud's mirror Johnson's coffee pot and Bulgakov's stove amongst many others It investigates houses within which nineteenth century writers mythologised themselves and their work Thoreau's cabin and Dumas tower Scott's Abbotsford and Irving's Sunnyside And it tracks literary tourists of the past to such long celebrated literary homes as Petrarch's Arqu Rousseau's Ile St Pierre and Shakespeare's Stratford to find out what they thought and felt and did discovering deep continuities with the redevelopment of Shakespeare's New Place for 2016 A Skeptic's Guide to Writers' Houses Anne Trubek, 2011-07-11 There are many ways to show our devotion to an author besides reading his or her works Graves make for popular pilgrimage sites but far more popular are writers house museums What is it we hope to accomplish by trekking to the home of a dead author We may go in search of the point of inspiration eager to stand on the very spot where our favorite literary characters first came to life and find ourselves instead in the house where the author himself was conceived or where she drew her last breath Perhaps it is a place through which our writer passed only briefly or maybe it really was a longtime home now thoroughly remade as a decorator's show house In A Skeptic's Guide to Writers' Houses Anne Trubek takes a vexed often funny and always thoughtful tour of a goodly number of house museums across the nation In Key West she visits the shamelessly ersatz shrine to a hard living Ernest Hemingway while meditating on his lost Cuban farm and the sterile Idaho house in which he committed suicide In Hannibal Missouri she walks the fuzzy line between fact and fiction as she visits the home of the young Samuel Clemens and the purported haunts of Tom Sawyer Becky Thatcher and Injun Joe She hits literary pay dirt in Concord Massachusetts the nineteenth century mecca that gave home to Hawthorne Emerson and Thoreau and yet could not accommodate a surprisingly complex Louisa May Alcott She takes us along the trail of residences that Edgar Allan Poe left behind in the wake of his many failures and to the burned out shell of a California house with which Jack London staked his claim on posterity In Dayton Ohio a charismatic guide brings Paul Laurence Dunbar to compelling life for those few visitors willing to listen in Cleveland Trubek finds a moving remembrance of Charles Chesnutt in a house that no longer stands Why is it that we visit writers houses Although admittedly skeptical about the stories these buildings tell us about their former inhabitants Anne Trubek carries us along as she falls at least a little bit in love with each stop on her itinerary and finds in each some truth about literature history and contemporary America New Stories from the South Shannon Ravenel, Roy Blount, 2003-01-01 Stories by writers with Southern backgrounds deal with the modern problems of life in the South Cincinnati Magazine, 2007-11 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region Boston and Beyond Lynn M. Dixon, 2017-03-10 It is the fifth in a series about a young married couple named Tyre and Phoenix He is a college professor and she is a librarian who spend a week in Boston and are visiting from Chicago They will make further decisions about their career moves at the end of the book Memoir Ben Yagoda, 2009-11-12 From a critically acclaimed cultural and literary critic a definitive history and analysis of the memoir From Saint Augustine's Confessions to Augusten Burroughs's Running with Scissors from Julius Caesar to Ulysses Grant from Mark Twain to David Sedaris the art of memoir has had a fascinating life and deserves its own biography Cultural and literary critic Ben Yagoda traces the memoir from its birth in early Christian writings and Roman generals journals all the way up to the banner year of 2007 which saw memoirs from and about dogs rock stars bad dads good dads alternadads waitresses George Foreman Iranian women and a slew of other illustrious persons and animals In a time when memoir seems ubiquitous and is still highly controversial Yagoda tackles the autobiography and memoir in all its forms and iterations He discusses the fraudulent memoir and provides many examples from the past and addresses the ramifications and consequences of these books Spanning decades and nations styles and subjects he analyzes the hallmark memoirs of the Western tradition Rousseau Ben Franklin Henry Adams Gertrude Stein Edward Gibbon among others Yagoda also describes historical trends such as Native American captive memoirs slave narratives courtier dramas where one had to pay to NOT be included in a courtesan s memoir Throughout the idea of memory and truth how we remember and how well we remember lives is intimately explored Yagoda s elegant examination of memoir is at once a history of literature and taste and an absorbing glimpse into what humans find interesting one another Cincinnati Magazine ,2007-11 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region Best Places to Stay in New England Christina Tree, Kimberly Grant, 2000 For long weekends romantic getaways and family vacations the BEST PLACES TO STAY series describes an array of distinctive accommodations for discriminating travelers The authors personally visit and evaluate each establishment compiling accurate reliable up to date and unbiased information for anyone who insists on nothing but the best Country Inns Bed Lodges Spas Resorts Romantic Hideaways Guest Farms Grand Old Resorts Describes more than 350 accommodation choices in Maine Vermont New Hampshire Massachusetts Connecticut and Rhode Island
