Against the Grain Lyn Jacobs, 2001 This is the first comprehensive critical study of Beverley Farmer's poetry, prose and criticism in UQP's long running Studies in Australian Literature series. Jacobs studies Farmer's work in relation to the dynamic changes in writing and reception that have occurred during Farmer's writing life. Current Geographical Publications University of Wisconsin--Milwaukee. Library, 1998. Current Geographical Publications CGP is a non profit service to the scholarly community initiated in 1938 by the American Geographical Society of New York. Beginning in 2006 the format changed to include the tables of contents of current geographical journals. The journal titles listed link to web pages or PDF scans of the current issue's contents. Philosophical Magazine, 1869 The London, Edinburgh and Dublin Philosophical Magazine and Journal of Science, 1869 The Old-time Herald, 1987 Ghana Armed Forces in Lebanon and Liberia Peace Operations Emmanuel Wekem Kotia, 2015-04-22. Africa Nations have contributed to peace operations in conflict zones across the world since the deployment of the United Nations Operations in the Congo in 1960. This has placed Africa as a major stakeholder in the maintenance of peace and security. For over fifty years Ghana has earned the international reputation as one of the largest and consistent Troop Contributing Countries in United Nations mandated peace operations. While Ghana has long been an active contributor to peace operations, there are few or no comparative studies that systematically analyze the actual roles played by troops in many of the different conflict contexts where they have served. This book therefore focuses on a comparison of two peace operations undertaken by the forces of an African Nation in two different missions in Lebanon and Liberia. Ned Wynkoop and the Lonely Road from Sand Creek Louis Kraft, 2012-09-13. When Edward W. Wynkoop arrived in Colorado Territory during the 1858 gold rush, he was one of many ambitious newcomers seeking wealth in a promising land mostly inhabited by American Indians. After he worked as a miner, sheriff, bartender and land speculator, Wynkoop's life drastically changed after he joined the First Colorado Volunteers to fight for the Union during the Civil War. This sympathetic but critical biography centers on his subsequent efforts to prevent war with Indians during the volatile 1860s. A central theme of Louis Kraft's engaging narrative is Wynkoop's daring in standing up to Anglo-Americans and attempting to end the 1864 Indian war. The Indians may have been dangerous enemies obstructing progress, but they were also human beings. Many whites thought otherwise, and at daybreak on November 29, 1864, the Colorado Volunteers attacked Black Kettle's sleeping camp. Upon learning of the disaster, now known as the Sand Creek Massacre, Wynkoop was appalled and spoke out vehemently against the action. Many of his contemporaries damned his views, but Wynkoop devoted the rest of his career as a soldier and then as a U.S. Indian agent to helping Cheyennes and Arapahos to survive. The tribes' lifeways still centered on the dwindling herds of buffalo, but now they needed guns to hunt. Kraft reveals how hard Wynkoop worked to persuade the Indian Bureau to provide the tribes with firearms along with their allotments of food and clothing, a hard sell to a government bent on protecting white settlers and paving the way for American expansion. In the wake of Sand Creek Wynkoop strove to prevent General Winfield Scott Hancock from destroying a Cheyenne Sioux village in 1867 only to have the general ignore him and start a war Fearing more innocent people would die Wynkoop resigned from the Indian Bureau but not long thereafter receded into obscurity Now thanks to Louis Kraft we may appreciate Wynkoop as a man of conscience who dared to walk between Indians and Anglo Americans but was often powerless to prevent the tragic consequences of their conflict The London, Edinburgh, and Dublin philosophical magazine and journal of science Naturforschende Gesellschaft in Zürich, 1869 Contemporary Art Gallery of New South Wales, Anthony Bond, Wayne Tunncliffe, 2006 This book one of a series on the gallery's collections has two broad objectives firstly to introduce the contemporary collection and the ideas that have provided direction for its evolution and secondly to address and discuss with brevity and clarity the individual works of art communities The situation is dire For many Indigenous Australians health is poor and they die early in life Training schooling and employment outcomes are dismal and incarceration rates are the highest in the world This book offers a very different understanding of this crisis told from the people s own experiences It will take the reader to another side of life a side that most policymakers and program managers know little about It reveals hidden mechanisms of failure that underlie these experiences working unseen in culturally distinct and marginalised communities the world over By seeing this new perspective the solutions are visible so that empowerment and hope is found for the challenges of First Nations peoples For history Buffs The first 5 chapters cover some of the history of the colonisation of east Arnhem Land NT Australia with unique stories from the perspectives of the Yolngu people      Military Review ,1999      The Saturday Evening Post ,1905
