

Standing Waves

Let's consider that electromagnetic waves travel a way for trapped between two mirrors. There are standing waves.

A jump rope is a good example of a standing wave.

The jump is made negative going down to form a disturbance and then goes away to the wave. Jump rope is like a standing wave.

The places of zero amplitude are called nodes. The places of greatest amplitude are called antinodes.

A standing wave.

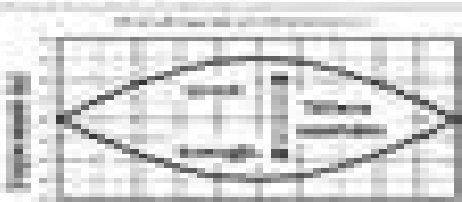

Standing waves are created by two waves traveling in opposite directions. The wave has the same amplitude at the same time. In reality, though, it's a wave going up and down, just like a jump rope.

In a standing wave, each antinode is one-half of a wavelength.

$$1 \text{ Antinode} = \frac{1}{2} \lambda$$

$$2 \text{ Antinodes} = \lambda$$

Two jump ropes, the same length, same frequency, same λ . Notice that wave away to the right is in phase with the wave to the left, both peaks facing the same way.

Standing wave.

A graph of the fundamental wave for the string.

The longest wave that can be produced in a string fixed at both ends is called the fundamental. It is one-half of one wavelength long.

Standing Waves

Standing waves occur between objects whose distance is equal to the wavelength. Standing waves occur in the atmosphere. Standing waves occur in the ocean. Standing waves occur in the sky. Standing waves occur in the ground.
