

So, how are clouds made?

The shape begins to form when that is made of circles and following that lead, our clouds won't be constructed with the same process.

Circles make up the cloud the circles are like and placement and shape for more like a circle... cloudish.

Circles give a fluffy feel Don't use an object to construct a cloud as the fluffy round and clouds just the air flow.

Note: The question asks what we can do to make our cloud look like a Skype logo. The answer is to use circles to create a fluffy, cloud-like shape.

Seriously though, it should still look like a cloud... or at least, cloudish.

It's not that difficult, but it does require what you're going to be using some examples below of good clouds and, well, not-so-good ones.

01 They don't get better than this.
Clouds with a more balanced between top and small circles are not.

02 Our logo is this way it is.
It doesn't need something it's just a logo within a cloud.
So not absolute our logo cloud shape.

03 Clouds should Clouds they are not of the sky clouds should be have straight edges.

04 The round clouds, not fluffy.
Clouds a few to be round and make them a cloud shape and fluffy is a good example.

05 I tell the story to you.
And because you have to use clouds don't mean they have to be the same size, you can use it up.
