

What is Pupil Premium Plus?

Pupil Premium Plus (PP+), as defined in 2015, has been designed to help low-income families, children and young people access the best education and health care. The purpose was to close the attainment gap between these groups and their peers. Pupil Premium is currently £1,200 per eligible pupil for primary schools and £100 per pupil for secondary schools.

in 2016 (the 2015-2016 financial year) Pupil Premium Plus was funded with an additional £100 million for every child, for every year, that the government was committed to providing for every child in the country. This was to help with the cost of providing a high-quality education for every child in the country. Pupil Premium Plus is currently £1,200 per child per year.

Early Years Pupil Premium (EYPP) was introduced in April 2017 as additional funding for early years settings. Children aged 2-5 years are eligible for a rate of £100 per head per year requested for £100 per annum.

What is eligible for Pupil Premium Plus?

Pupil Premium Plus is available to pupils from reception age to Year 11 in state-funded education in England who:

- are looked after by one in England;
- have been looked after one in England or Wales;
- left care under a Special Guardianship Order (SGO);
- left care under a Child Arrangements Order (CAO) (usually known as a Residence Order).

in respect of children adopted from abroad after Pupil Premium Plus was initially restricted to children adopted up to age 10 December 2010 but by the summer of 2013 was extended to all children adopted from care.

Pupils may be attending either:

- an early years provider. This includes any organisation offering education for children aged under 5, including nurseries, school nurseries and playgroups;
- a local authority maintained school or voluntary aided school;
- an academy or free school;
- a non-maintained special school, an independent school or other educational provision (e.g. boarding independent schools) that places or proposes to place the pupil within;

Children who are educated without an official private school are not currently eligible unless their placement is funded by the local authority.

O'Connor, 2010-08-18 This work within The SAGE Reference Series on Leadership provides undergraduate students with an authoritative reference resource on leadership issues specific to women and gender. Although covering historical and contemporary barriers to women's leadership and issues of gender bias and discrimination, this two-volume set focuses as well on positive aspects and opportunities for leadership in various domains and is centered on the 101 most important topics, issues, questions, and debates specific to women and gender. Entries provide students with more detailed information and depth of discussion than typically found in an encyclopedia entry but lack the jargon, detail, and density of a journal article.

Key Features: Includes contributions from a variety of renowned experts; Focuses on women and public leadership in the American context; women's global leadership; women as leaders in the business sector, the nonprofit and social service sector, religion, academia, public policy, advocacy, the media, sports, and the arts; Addresses both the history of leadership within the realm of women and gender with examples from the lives of pivotal figures and the institutional settings and processes that lead to both opportunities and constraints unique to that realm; Offers an approachable, clear writing style directed at student researchers; Features more depth than encyclopedia entries with most chapters ranging between 6,000 and 8,000 words while avoiding the jargon and density often found in journal articles or research handbooks; Provides a list of further readings and references after each entry as well as a detailed index and an online version of the work to maximize accessibility for today's student audience.
