A Journalist's Education in the Classroom David S. Awbrey, 2010-12-16 After an impressive career in journalism David S Awbrey became a middle school social studies teacher in Springfield Missouri a typical American community that he uses as a compelling case study to explore many of the social and academic problems facing education nationwide A Journalist s Education in the Classroom is an insightful poignant and often humorous account of his experiences teaching medieval and Renaissance history What Awbrey found in the classroom should alarm all Americans students obsessed with popular culture and disengaged from academics teachers intellectually unprepared for the 21st century global society and an educational establishment focused more on protecting its own power than on ensuring that the next generation possesses the scholastic skills necessary to advance American democracy and prosperity But Awbrey offers hope Citing historical precedents including Charlemagne s lifting Europe out of the ignorance of post Roman Empire barbarism and the 15th century Italian Renaissance he examines how the rediscovery of classical learning preserved Western civilization and persuasively argues that America s future hinges on a similar restoration of the liberal arts to primacy in the nation s schools

Wood,2018-06-05 This collection of essays by twenty one distinguished American historians reflects on a peculiarly American way of imagining the past At a time when history writing has changed dramatically the authors discuss the birth and evolution of historiography in this country from its origins in the late nineteenth century through its present more cosmopolitan character In the book s first part concerning recent historiography are chapters on exceptionalism gender economic history social theory race and immigration and multiculturalism Authors are Daniel Rodgers Linda Kerber Naomi Lamoreaux Dorothy Ross Thomas Holt and Philip Gleason The three American centuries are discussed in the second part with chapters by Gordon Wood George Fredrickson and James Patterson The third part is a chronological survey of non American histories including that of Western civilization ancient history the middle ages early modern and modern Europe Russia and Asia Contributors are Eugen Weber Richard Saller Gabrielle Spiegel Anthony Molho Philip Benedict Richard Kagan Keith Baker Joseph Zizak Volker Berghahn Charles Maier Martin Malia and Carol Gluck Together these scholars reveal the unique perspective American historians have brought to the past of their own nation as well as that of the world. Formerly writing from a conviction that America had a singular destiny, American historians have gradually come to share viewpoints of historians in other countries about which they write. The result is the virtual disappearance of what was a distinctive American voice. That voice is the subject of this book.
