Perna, Joni E. Finney, Patrick M. Callan, 2014-05 While the federal government seeks to promote educational attainment and equity through its extensive investment in student financial aid states have primary responsibility for policies that affect the educational attainment of their populations Despite the centrality of state policy however we know relatively little about the relationship between state policy and these outcomes This book addresses this knowledge gap Drawing on data collected from descriptive case studies of the relationship between public policy and higher education performance in five states Georgia Illinois Maryland Texas and Washington this book offers a more complete conceptual framework for understanding how state public policy can promote educational attainment The resulting framework has five central tenets that help us understanding how to improve overall educational attainment and increase equity in that attainment At its core the model assumes that higher education performance is determined by effective state policy leadership for higher education The book also illustrates the need for state policies that reduce the cumulative negative implications of policies that perpetuate differences in educational outcomes across groups and that proactively address the barriers that limit educational attainment for underachieving groups This book has important implications for public policymakers college and university leaders educational researchers and others who are interested in understanding how public policy can improve educational attainment and equity in attainment across groups Provided by publisher Annual Report UPASI Tea Research Foundation,1999 Resources in Vocational Education ,1978 Integrated Reporting (IR) for Sustainability Ki-Hoon Lee,Samanthi Senaratne,Nuwan Gunarathne,2023-10-24 The book presents a rich collection of research studies on the theory and practice of corporate integrated reporting IR in South Asia South Asia is emerging to compete in the world marketplace and one of fast economically growing regions to contribute to the global economy As the region s economic development accelerates balancing economic and environmental development appears as a key sustainability challenge for governments investors consumers and local communities Companies in South Asia region are therefore increasingly challenged to reduce their environmental impacts and to contribute to sustainable development This book includes valuable contributions of advanced research concepts applications developments and case studies on corporate IR and sustainability accounting in South Asia and the roles of different professional accounting bodies to strength corporate sustainability and build capacity in the South Asian Region Digital finance and agri-food value chains: Case studies from Kenya Wairimu, Edith,2025-07-09 Kenya s agrifood systems are broad and diverse including both staple food crops and high value exports which are essential to the economic and social advancement of the nation The agricultural sector employs more than 40 percent of Kenya s workforce including more than 70 percent of rural residents and accounts for about 33 percent of the country s GDP FAO 2023a FAO n d The growth of Kenya s agrifood system is largely driven by domestic market demand rather than exports a trend driven by rapid urbanization and rising income opportunities in the rural nonfarm sector which are leading to shifts in dietary preferences and are expected to further influence ongoing structural transformation Diao et al 2023 Kenya s agricultural sector is characterized by several value chains that significantly support economic output job creation and trade Tea is Kenya s most significant agricultural export contributing about 2 percent to the overall GDP and 4 percent to GDP in agriculture Managed predominantly by the Kenya Tea Development Agency KTDA which oversees over 60 percent of national tea production the sector supports approximately 6.5 million people Tea Board of Kenya 2024 Tea also contributes around 21
