The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its

North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America s oldest public schools The Oxford Handbook of Assessment Policy and Practice in Music Education, Volume 1 Timothy S. Brophy, 2019-01-02 In the music classroom instructors who hope to receive aid are required to provide data on their classroom programs Due to the lack of reliable valid large scale assessments of student achievement in music however music educators in schools that accept funds face a considerable challenge in finding a way to measure student learning in their classrooms From Australia to Taiwan to the Netherlands music teachers experience similar struggles in the quest for a definitive assessment resource that can be used by both music educators and researchers In this two volume Handbook contributors from across the globe come together to provide an authority on the assessment measurement and evaluation of student learning in music The Handbook s first volume emphasizes international and theoretical perspectives on music education assessment in the major world regions This volume also looks at technical aspects of measurement in music and outlines situations where theoretical foundations can be applied to the development of tests in music The Handbook s second volume offers a series of practical and US focused approaches to music education assessment Chapters address assessment in different types of US classrooms how to assess specific skills or requirements and how assessment can be used in tertiary and music teacher education classrooms Together both volumes of The Oxford Handbook of Assessment in Music Education pave the way forward for music educators and researchers in the field Commercial and Maritime Law in China and Europe Shengnan Jia, Lijun Liz Zhao, 2022-12-26 Both China and Europe have a long tradition of commercial and maritime law and this new book examining various topics from their particular perspectives is both timely and important It links the vital component of maritime law with commercial law financial law and trade policy The book has performed a remarkable task in making connections between China and Europe through the lenses of substantive and procedural laws covering a wide range of areas including commercial law insurance law salvage EU maritime law and Brexit carriage of goods by sea arbitration mediation litigation the recently formed China International Commercial Court and different liability regimes as well as a brief look forward into new initiatives and artificial intelligence in the digital age In these challenging times we all have much to learn from each other in seeking to find answers to what are often difficult problems This book provides a welcome opportunity for anyone interested in commercial and maritime law to engage in that learning exercise and looking ahead thereby to help solve such problems as may arise in the future in a practical and fair manner It is therefore of great relevance to both the academic field and the legal practice field in China and Europe The St Marylebone School Jaqueline Mitchell, Graham Gardner, 2013-12-02

Starting life in 1791 as a single room school for poor local children The St Marylebone School has become the top non selective school in London and one of the top non selective girls schools in the country The journey has been challenging and often turbulent as the school has sought to make the most of its small site at the top of Marylebone High Street Over the past twenty years under the leadership of Elizabeth Phillips the school has developed notable strengths in the performing and visual arts mathematics and supporting students with special educational needs Increasingly it helps other schools to flourish Throughout the many changes to its fabric and curriculum St Marylebone has remained faithful to the values of its founders and retained the strong support of the church against which it nestles Its aim is to ensure that every child regardless of their background is helped to make the very best of their talents and abilities *The Wisconsin Environmental Education Board ...
