

TOYOTA TECHNICAL INFORMATION SYSTEM (TIS)

» TUTORIAL

PART 1: THE DAMAGE DIAGNOSIS DOCUMENT

Toyota's Technical Information System (TIS) is a web-based database for service information that includes service bulletins, tech tips, repair manuals, quick training guides, collision repair manuals and new car features. The information found in TIS is essential for the proper repair of any Toyota, Lexus or Scion vehicle. Over the next few issues, we'll explore different TIS documents that are beneficial to collision repairers. The first document we'll cover is the Damage Diagnosis Document found in the Collision Repair Manual section.

DAMAGE DIAGNOSIS DOCUMENT FOR EACH TOYOTA MODEL

Found under the Collision Repair Manual tab for each specific model, the Damage Diagnosis document shows how the forces of a collision are transferred throughout the vehicle. The Damage Diagnosis document provides estimators with information on where to look for potential damage.

The Damage Diagnosis document also details a variety of collision scenarios, for example, a head-on collision, rear-end collision or side impact. Each diagram outlines how the forces are diverted in an accident. For instance, in a side impact, where the center pillar is located, you can see how the forces are diverted along the door beams and possibly diverted to the bulkhead. The bulkhead can be easily overlooked during an inspection, when, in fact, it may also need repair. Seeing where crush zones are located and how they're designed to give makes it easier to determine which components need to be replaced or repaired.

After you identify all supplemental damage, continue to reference the collision repair document to properly blueprint your repair.

The Damage Diagnosis document is just one example of the robust technical information available on TIS. Look for the second installment of our tutorial series in our next issue.

The Paris Adventures of Judith & Amy Judith V. Branzburg, 2010-04-09 This travel mystery book starts as an e journal of the six month stay in Paris of the mid career well traveled Judith and Amy Amy a rocket scientist from Pasadena California is a visiting researcher at the French National Laboratories in Paris Judith her girlfriend and a professor of English at a Los Angeles area community college is on unpaid leave accompanying her Judith with the promise of many visitors and no special projects in mind aside from learning to speak French has decided to write an e journal to friends and family Thus the book is in an epistolary form written pretty much in the present tense as it describes events shortly after they have happened and includes photos Judith or friends have taken to illustrate various points In addition to Judiths narratives and photos edited versions of replies from her correspondents which Judith was surprised to receive but felt needed to be shared in view of her commitment to community are included at the beginning of each installment after the first Overall Judith appears only a semi aware narrator coming across a bit as an innocent abroad yet at the same time is highly self reflective about language and fills the narrative with word play parenthetical references popular culture references high and low culture jokes and philosophy Overall the tone is one of bemused innocence or slight paranoia and benign irony Judiths task of having her journal be something besides the ordinary becomes simplified when in time for the first installment she and Amy happen to be at the sight of the discovery of a dead body in a canal near the Bastille The same evening as the discovery of the body Judith and Amy are asked by their temporary landlady to assist her in securing the contents of a safe deposit box in Zurich to help her ailing aunt As Judith and Amy are heading to Zurich that week to attend the opening of a sculpture exhibit by one of their friends it seems the least they could do to help this older woman The body and the visit to the bank sets off a series of events that embroil Judith and Amy Judiths French tutor and fellow students Amys French bosses their French friends and American and other visitors in an apparent drug war Since Judith is in France illegally and subject to possible deportation Amy and Judith are forced to rely only on friends and their own ingenuity and interpretive powers to connect the clues and extricate themselves from what increasingly seems to be some sort of misunderstanding on the part of gangsters about their involvement in drug smuggling The solving of the mystery makes up the narrative line of the text But at the same time as Judith and Amy become increasingly enmeshed in mystery Judith has not forgotten that essentially her correspondence is a travel journal So she continues to interweave descriptions and ponderings on the relationships among and meanings of popular culture and customs politics critical theory science religion language class race art architecture as well as adventures and anecdotes from previous travels with Amy into the narrative Even though Judiths paranoia colors her perception and interpretation of events and thus confuses her readers about what is real and what fiction there do seem to be people following Judith and Amy and the clues Judith and Amy discover all having to do with fire water earth and air are undoubtedly real Judith and Amys efforts to follow the clues or to flee the implications of the clues lead them and their friends to a variety of spectacles in Paris as well as the Parisian canals fireworks at La Defense and la Villette a night of fountains and fireworks Versailles opera at Vaux le Viscomte the beach at La Baule in France medieval Bruges in Belgium and London England before they solve the mystery and help justice be done
