(MENA) Joseph Pelzman, 2012-06-26 The Middle East and North Africa MENA is a large complex and diverse region which faces a wide range of economic issues The MENA group includes Algeria Bahrain Cyprus Djibouti Egypt Iran Iraq Israel Jordan Kuwait Lebanon Libya Morocco Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia Syria Tunisia Turkey United Arab Emirates and Yemen This book uses analytical tools drawn from the trade labor finance and development literature to critically analyze and compare these countries economic policies The approach taken in this book is to focus on the economic policies and institutional arrangements which have evolved in MENA and which may serve to explain the differences in each country's economic performance The key objective of the book is to unravel the context specific variety of growth promoting policies within MENA rather than focus on specific countries This book stresses that the poor performance of Arab MENA can be chiefly explained by their aversion to a Western paradigm of market economics In the advanced industrial countries and in Israel globalization is largely viewed in economic terms the free movement of goods services labor and capital across borders In the Arab MENA however globalization is viewed in largely ideological terms and has been regarded as a new version of imperialism Consequently the Arab MENA region remains one of the most unglobalized regions in the world The book serves as both a textbook and a summary of the very large literature on MENA It examines the following economic realities of the region and compares them across the MENA economies Technology gap and comparative development The value of education and human capital development Water and food security The economics and politics of oil Population growth role of gender and labor mobility The role of the state as economic actor The economic value of democracy The prospects for regional integration      The Middle East Barry Rubin, 2015-03-17 The Middle East is an area of great importance globally yet misperceptions abound Events have made it a region of special interest to the West and so the search for understanding gains momentum This publication is intended to clarify the region's complex history and issues In developing this project the contributors set out to explore seven significant themes that are usually not found in other sources While many books focus on political history and conflicts this two volume work deals specifically with culture religion women economics governance and media as well as the role that the region's modern history has played in shaping its society and worldview      Economic
