Retrospective June Yap, 2017-08-15 Developed as an exploratory study of artworks by artists of Singapore and Malaysia Retrospective attempts to account for contemporary artworks that engage with history These are artworks that reference past events or narratives of the nation and its art Through the examination of a selection of artworks produced between 1990 and 2012 Retrospective is both an attribution and an analysis of a historiographical aesthetic within contemporary art practice It considers that by their method and in their assembly these artworks perform more than a representation of a historical past Instead they confront history and its production laying bare the nature and designs of the historical project via their aesthetic project Positing an interdisciplinary approach as necessary for understanding the historiographical as aesthetic Retrospective considers not only historical and aesthetic perspectives but also the philosophical by way of ontology in order to broaden its exposition beyond the convention of historical and contextual interpretation of art Yet in associating these artworks with a historiographical aesthetic this exposition may be regarded as a historiographical exercise in itself affirming the significance of these artworks for the history of Singapore and Malaysia In short which history rarely is Retrospective is about the art of historicisation and the historicisation of art

Third Wave Capitalism John Ehrenreich, 2016-04-05 In Third Wave Capitalism John Ehrenreich documents the emergence of a new stage in the history of American capitalism Just as the industrial capitalism of the nineteenth century gave way to corporate capitalism in the twentieth recent decades have witnessed corporate capitalism evolving into a new phase which Ehrenreich calls Third Wave Capitalism Third Wave Capitalism is marked by apparent contradictions Rapid growth in productivity and lagging wages fabulous wealth for the 1 percent and the persistence of high levels of poverty increases in the standard of living and increases in mental illness personal misery and political rage the apotheosis of the individual and the deterioration of democracy increases in life expectancy and out of control medical costs an African American president and the incarceration of a large percentage of the black population Ehrenreich asserts that these phenomena are evidence that a virulent individualist winner take all ideology and a virtual fusion of government and business have subverted the American dream Greed and economic inequality reinforce the sense that each of us is on our own The result is widespread lack of faith in collective responses to our common problems The collapse of any organized opposition to business demands makes political solutions ever more difficult to imagine Ehrenreich traces the impact of these changes on American health care school reform income distribution racial inequities and personal emotional distress Not simply a lament Ehrenreich s book seeks clues for breaking out of our current stalemate and proposes a strategy to create a new narrative in which change becomes possible
