Life and Marriage in Skya Rgya, a Tibetan Village Blo brtan rdo rje, Charles Kevin Stuart, 2008 From the book's preface Skya rgya is a farming village in Amdo Tibet While Tibetans largely welcome the material benefits that have been brought to them by the march of modernity it is also inevitable that many of their older traditions have come to be seen as outdated By juxtaposing voices from earlier periods with those that reflect contemporary experiences the author has provided us with a fascinating window onto the processes of change and development as they are being experienced by Tibetans in this area The author's narratives give us a direct and vivid insight into the lives experiences and expectations of members of his home community Fernanda Pirie The Centre for Socio Legal Studies Oxford University Also from the book's preface Blo brtan rdo rje's honest rendering of the details of his family life make this a page turning account of life in a rural Tibetan area that is already vanishing When Blo brtan rdo rje was young there was not even a bridge to cross the Yellow River into Gcan tsha County After bridges were built in the late 1980s life has been changing rapidly This is not to suggest that no change had come to this Tibetan village before this time as the arrival of the troops of the Muslim warlord Ma Bufang prior to the Communist period are also documented here The forced conversion of neighboring down valley Tibetans to Islam was a crucial vehicle for the later commercial changes introduced in the 1990s this new book could serve as an important part of courses on Tibetan culture cross cultural studies of marriage and gender relations I congratulate Blo brtan rdo rje and Kevin Stuart on this impressive contribution to Tibetan studies Gray Tuttle Department of East Asia Languages and Cultures Columbia University From the author's introduction I was born in 1979 the only son of a ten people farming herding family on 43 acres of farmland on which we cultivate wheat barley peas rapeseed potatoes and a few vegetables for self consumption In 1985 my father Rin chen bsod nams b 1954 put me on one of our several donkeys and the two of us set out for my paternal grandmother's Phag mo sgrol ma b 1927 home in the mountains It took us most of the day to reach Grandmother's home which was a single room where she lived a long second room for the sheep and goats and a fenced area for the yaks. The area around Grandmother's cottage was mountainous. There was no electricity. Rapeseed oil lamps provided light at night. Grandmother fetched water in a wooden bucket that she carried on her back from a transparent stream. Bread with milk tea was our breakfast and lunch. We ate noodles with sometimes a few chunks of pork but rarely vegetables. I have three sisters. My elder sister has twin six year old sons who had not started school in 2006. My two younger sisters are both university students and their school tuition has become a significant worry for my family. My parents have now moved to the local county town where they bought a cheap house with a small yard with the money they earned from selling our family's sheep and goats. Mother raises four milk mdzo mo a female yak cow cross from which she earns an average of twenty five yuan about 3.50 per day by selling milk and yogurt in the street. Father does whatever temporary work he can find that pays fifteen to twenty yuan per day 2.15 to 2.86. Kids from richer families call my mother Skya rgya Beggar when they see her selling milk and yogurt in the bustling streets. This humiliates and causes much pain.

A Grammar of Qiang Randy J. LaPolla, Chenglong Huang, 2008-08-22. This book is a full reference grammar of Qiang, one of the minority languages of southwest China spoken by about 70,000 Qiang and Tibetan people in Aba Tibetan and Qiang Autonomous Prefecture in northern Sichuan Province. It belongs to the Qiangic branch of Tibeto-Burman, one of the two major branches of Sino-Tibetan. The dialect presented in the book is the Northern Qiang variety spoken in Ronghong Village, Yadu Township, Chibusu District, Mao County. This book, the first book-length description of the Qiang language in English, is the result of many years of work on the language and is as typologically comprehensive as possible. It includes not only the reference grammar but also an ethnological overview, several fully analyzed texts (mostly traditional stories) and an annotated glossary. The language is verb-final, agglutinative, prefixing and suffixing, and has both head marking and dependent marking morphology. The phonology of Qiang is quite complex, with 39 consonants at seven points of articulation plus complex consonant clusters both in initial and final position, as well as vowel harmony, vowel length distinctions, and a set of retroflexed vowels. The grammar also is complex, with a paradigm of eight direction marking verbal prefixes and two paradigms for person marking (one for actor, one for non-actor) and a variety of other verbal prefixes and suffixes, as well as definite and number marking on nouns. Noun phrases take classifiers and relational postpositions as well.
