The Mermaid Chair Sue Monk Kidd, 2005 C 2 GIFT ANN MURPHY 01 22 2007 14 00 The Mermaid Chair Sue Monk Kidd, 2006-03-07 A transcendent tale of a woman's self discovery the New York Times bestselling second work of fiction by the author of The Secret Life of Bees and The Book of Longings Inside the church of a Benedictine monastery on Egret Island just off the coast of South Carolina resides a beautiful and mysterious chair ornately carved with mermaids and dedicated to a saint who legend claims was a mermaid before her conversion When Jessie Sullivan is summoned home to the island to cope with her eccentric mother's seemingly inexplicable behavior she is living a conventional life with her husband Hugh a life molded to the smallest space possible Jessie loves Hugh but once on the island she finds herself drawn to Brother Thomas a monk about to take his final vows Amid a rich community of unforgettable island women and the exotic beauty of marshlands tidal creeks and majestic egrets Jessie grapples with the tension of desire and the struggle to deny it with a freedom that feels overwhelmingly right and with the immutable force of home and marriage Is the power of the mermaid chair only a myth Or will it alter the course of Jessie's life What happens will unlock the roots of her mother's tormented past but most of all it will allow Jessie to discover selfhood and a place of belonging as she explores the thin line between the spiritual and the erotic

English Medieval Misericords Paul Hardwick, 2011 Misericord carvings present a fascinating corpus of medieval art which in turn complements our knowledge of life and belief in the late middle ages Subjects range from the sacred to the profane and from the fantastic to the everyday seemingly giving equal weight to the scatological and the spiritual alike Focusing specifically on England though with cognisance of broader European contexts this volume offers an analysis of misericords in relation to other cultural artefacts of the period Through a series of themed case studies the book places misericords firmly within the doctrinal and devotional milieu in which they were created and sited arguing that even the apparently coarse images to be found beneath choir stalls are intimately linked to the devotional life of the medieval English Church The analysis is complemented by a gazetteer of the most notable instances Dr Paul Hardwick is Professor in English Leeds Trinity University College

Making a Splash Philip Hayward, 2017-01-30 The representation of aquatic people in contemporary film and television from their on screen sexuality to the mockumentaries they've inspired Mermaids have been a feature of western cinema since its inception and the number of films television series and videos representing them has expanded exponentially since the 1980s Making a Splash analyses texts produced within a variety of audiovisual genres Following an overview of mermaids in western culture that draws on a range of disciplines including media studies psychoanalysis and post structuralism individual chapters provide case studies of particular engagements with the folkloric figure From Hans Christian Andersen's The Little Mermaid to the creation of Ursula Ariel's tentacled antagonist in Disney's 1989 film to aspects of mermaid vocality physicality agency and sexuality in films and even representations of mermen this work provides a definitive overview of the significance of these ancient mythical figures in 110 years of western audio visual
