The Culture of Leadership in Contemporary China Paul Michael Linehan, 2017-12-06 The resurgence of Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism in the context of Chinese leadership values has emerged as a foundation for a new generation of leaders The once in a decade transition of China's leadership witnessed the ascendancy of a consensus oriented fifth generation of leaders supporting a central authoritative figure whose priority will likely include the reconciliation of a waning communist ideology juxtaposed with its ostensible embrace of capitalism How will Chinese Communist Party authority ideology and control address the encroachment of Western values that are centered on Roman law Greek philosophy and Christian religion which prioritizes individual freedom and democracy This book examines the role of traditional Chinese values ideology and philosophy as a key determinant in modern China s leadership succession The author asserts that as communist ideology wanes Chinese leaders will turn to their own traditional values found in Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism to establish legitimacy to rule as they seek to promote Chinese prominence and greatness in the world The author s research assesses China s promotion of its own traditional values in rejecting foreign value influence Since the inception of modern China at the beginning of the 20th century China s leadership transition has evolved from an authoritarian cult like dictatorship to a consensus oriented process In researching this metamorphosis this book offers social political cultural and historical perspectives to demonstrate that Chinese human values and character factors have risen in prominence as key elements in the mandate of Chinese governance and leadership The author concludes that Chinese leadership values and its study and diffusion across sectors of Chinese leadership including business organizations and government have become a means to accentuate Chinese values as a viable alternative to Western claims of absolute and universally accepted values
