The Screen in Surrealist Art and Thought Haim Finkelstein, 2017-07-05 An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andr   Breton's notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton's window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton's window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren   Magritte Max Ernst Andr   Breton and Joan Mir   The concluding chapter considers

The Restoration of Paintings in Paris, 1750-1815

No  mie   tienne, 2017-02-21 The decades following the 1973 publication of Alessandro Conti's Storia del Restauro have seen considerable scholarly interest in the development of restoration in France in the second half of the eighteenth century A number of technical treatises and biographies of restorers have offered insight into restoration practice The Restoration of Paintings in Paris 1750 1815 however is the first book to situate this work within the broader historical and philosophical contexts of the time Drawing on previously unpublished primary material from archives in Paris Berlin Rome and Venice No mie tienne combines art history with anthropology and sociology to survey the waning decades of the Ancien R gime and early post Revolution France Initial chapters present the diversity of restoration practice encompassing not only royal institutions and the Louvre museum but also private art dealers artists and craftsmen and examine questions of trade secrecy and the changing role of the restorer Following chapters address the influence of restoration and exhibition on the aesthetic understanding of paintings as material objects The book closes with a discussion of the institutional and political uses of restoration along with an art historical consideration of such key concepts as authenticity originality and stability of artworks emphasizing the multilayered dimension of paintings by such important artists as Titian and Raphael There is also a useful dictionary of the main restorers active in France between 1750 and 1815

The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1859 Publishers' circular and booksellers' record ,1860 Publishers' Circular ,1860 The Publishers' Circular ,1859 The Painter's Touch Ewa Lajer-Burcharth,2018-01-08 A new interpretation of the development of artistic modernity in eighteenth century France What can be gained from considering a painting not only as an image but also a material object How does the painter s own experience of the process of making matter for our understanding of both the painting and its maker The Painter s Touch addresses these questions to offer a radical reinterpretation of three paradigmatic French painters of the eighteenth century In this beautifully illustrated book Ewa Lajer Burcharth provides close readings of the works of Fran ois Boucher Jean Sim on Chardin and Jean Honor Fragonard entirely recasting our understanding of these painters practice Using the notion of touch she examines the implications of their strategic investment in materiality and sheds light on the distinct contribution of painting to the culture of the Enlightenment Lajer Burcharth traces how the distinct logic of these painters work the operation of surface in Boucher the deep materiality of Chardin and the dynamic morphological structure in Fragonard contributed to the formation of artistic identity Through the notion of touch she repositions these painters in the artistic culture of their time shifting attention from institutions such as the academy and the Salon to the realms of the market the medium and the body Lajer Burcharth analyzes Boucher s commercial tact Chardin s interiorized craft and Fragonard s materialization of eros Foregrounding the question of experience that of the painters and of the people they represent she shows how painting as a medium contributed to the Enlightenment s discourse on the self in both its individual and social functions By examining what paintings actually say in brushstrokes texture and paint The Painter s Touch transforms our understanding of the role of painting in the emergence of modernity and provides new readings of some of the most important and beloved works of art of the era
