What Every 4th Grade

Teacher Needs to Know Mike Anderson, 2010 You're teaching fourth grade this year. What do you need to know? Mike Anderson gives you practical information about daily routines, furniture, and much more. After a concise review of fourth graders' common developmental characteristics, Mike explains how to adjust your classroom and your teaching to fit these common characteristics. The result: students can learn and you can teach with minimum frustration and maximum ease and joy. In clear, plain writing peppered with classroom stories and examples, Mike shares practical know-how on topics like these: Arranging a circle of desks and tables; Choosing and storing supplies; Scheduling a child-centered day and teaching daily routines; Planning special projects and field trips that maximize learning and build community; Understanding the special concerns of fourth graders' parents and finding the best ways to communicate with them. The Personal Intelligences Launa Ellison, 2001 Launa Ellison is a pioneering teacher who has studied the scientific literature in psychology and neurology and sought to relate these findings to educational settings. In this new book, she shows how attention to the emotional and personal dimensions of students can help schools achieve their curricular and assessment goals. Howard Gardner, Graduate School of Education, Harvard University: A marvelously well-written account. A solid combination of research and useful practices focused on the important area of developing personal social identity. Robert Sylwester, Emeritus Professor of Education, University of Oregon: This is the finest book I have ever read on education and its transformations. Master teacher Launa Ellison brings current brain research to bear on her own profound state-of-the-art teaching methods. Rarely has theory and practice been so brilliantly brought together. Every teacher, every parent, every citizen concerned about our children and their development should read this book. Jean Houston, Ashland, OR: Teach more effectively using cutting-edge brain research. Nationally known teacher and author Launa Ellison helps teachers understand and use the latest brain research to improve education. Ellison blends two of the Multiple Intelligences, intrapersonal and interpersonal, with the most current research on the brain and learning to create a new foundation for K-8 classrooms. This new insight into personal intelligence and how it underpins all learning provides educators a unique opportunity to create optimal learning environments for students. This comprehensive but practical guide covers: Learning to control emotion and stress; How emotions impact learning; Personal intelligence across the curriculum; Reflection, goals, and portfolios; Responding to children's different learning needs; Ensuring that all children learn; Nurturing independence and self-directed learning. Ellison models reflective practice throughout and speaks to the interest of classroom teachers. A wealth of teaching strategies and activities, an annotated bibliography, useful guides, and a reproducible Week in Review checklist make this a powerful and essential resource for educators. About the Author: Launa Ellison teaches fifth and sixth grades in the Minneapolis Public Schools. She has published over twenty professional journal articles and, since 1984, has published The Consortium for Whole Brain Learning, an international newsletter dedicated to improving educational practices through understanding brain research.
