Globalization or Regionalization of the American and Asian Car Industry? M. Freyssenet, K.

Shimizu, G. Volpato, 2003-04-15 The automobile sector is one of the most archetypal global industries and is seen by many as one of the main drivers behind the homogenisation of world markets due to firms internationalization strategies and the social practices that firms impose This book argues that this is not entirely the case due to the heterogeneity of firms and the diversity of strategies pursued It highlights the diversity and forms of internationalization and the preference for regionalization rather than globalization that has occurred over the past decade This book looks specifically at the American and Asian car industry

Doing Good with Technologies: Katinka Waelbers, 2011-06-27 20th century technologies like cars the Internet and the contraceptive pill have altered our actions changed our perceptions and influenced our moral ideas for better and worse Upcoming technologies are bound to fulfill their own unique social roles How can we advance this social role so that it will support the good life and limit undesired changes This book explores whether we can take a forward looking responsibility to optimize the social roles of technologies In doing so the book discusses three issues first it aims to understand the social role of technologies second it explores what it means to accept responsibility for this social role and third it searches for some forward looking tools that help us to see how new technologies may influence human behavior In a rather unique approach this book combines the influential sociological research of Bruno Latour on the social impacts of technologies with the contemporary Aristotelianism of Alasdair MacIntyre
